ANOTHER KILLING.

Joe Calaway Kills His Brother in Lumpkin County.

On Wednesday of last week just as the sun was hiding herself behind the western hills another hererible affair occurred in the western portion of Lumpkin county about 11 miles from Dahlonega. Joe Calaway killed his brother Will in the field with an ax who had to do so to keep from losing his own life, but this our citizens were not aware of until the Saturday following as Joe was brought to town the day after the killing by Constable J. F. Perdew and put in jail in the absence of the sheriff, who stated that the coroner would be in town probably the next day with the papers, and our people all put it down as another case of murder and didn't know any better until the appearance of Coroner Satterfield who came in as before stated with the testimony of half a dozen witnesses and the verdict of the jury which reads as follows: "We the jury find that Joe Calaway killed Bill Calaway in self defense," signed N. H. Satterfield foreman, which was presented to Sheriff Davis and Joe Calaway was released from prison at once. Why he was put in jail we cannot say.

Joe Calaway lives in Nimblewill district and Will lived any where his hat was on his head.
Will was mad at Joe because he hadn't got his part. A few minutes before Will left his mother's house to go where his brother was he made threats. Joe was at work in some new ground near home clearing when Will appeared and the difficulty arose. There was no eye witness to it. A pistol shot

VIEW OF THE KNIGHT CUT AT THE HAND MINE—VEIN 16 FEET WIDE.

was heard in that direction causing some parties to go to the scene where they found Will lying on the ground with his brains oozing from two deep wounds on the head—one on the right side of his forehead and the other on the back of the head—made by the poll of an ax which Joe held in his hand. A pistol was also found with one chamber empty which Joe said Will had discharged at him. Joe made no effort to get away. He said he had to kill his brother in order to save himself. The wounded man was carried to the house and expired in about two hours afterwards.
Joe was placed under arrest, and that night the coroner was notified who went and performed his duty and the jury rendered a just verdict no doubt according to the testimony.

The following is the testimony:
S. A. Porter swears: "I heard
Bill Calaway say at different times that he would kill Joe Calaway."
Second witness (name not given): "I heard Bill Calaway say that he would have his part of the estate if he should kill Joe. Heard him say this not more than ten minutes before he was killed."

The mother of both the boys swore: "Bill asked me yesterday to get old man Wehnt out of the house so he could open the trunk.
He said he would kill Joe if he did not get me the bullet moulds."

W. M. Newberry swears: "I heard Bill Calaway say at different times that he would kill Joe. I saw him take Joe by the neck with his knife open and say that he would kill him, but Joe begged him out of the notion."

Mrs. S. A. Porter also swore that she heard Bill say that he would kill Joe.

Will Calaway was a desperate man. It is said that the people dreaded him wherever he went. He was the same man who was confined in Lumpkin county jail some months ago, arrested on suspicion of stealing something in Union county, and while imprisoned tried to commit suicide by breaking up a lamp chimney and eating a portion of the pieces. It was suspected that it would kill him and he was carried to the home of his mother to die, but he got up a day or two and left out and had not been in that section since until the time he lost his life.

Nature's Sanctuary.

Very likely the people of Georgia would be surprised if I were to state to them that the Tennessee river heads in Rabun county, Ga.
Yet it is no less true, and further that the name and source of the Tennessee river is traced to the very top of the Blue Ridge in that notable Rabun Gap four miles from Clayton.

There rises also in the same gap a branch of the Savannah river which runs southward from the gap. The head springs of the Savannah could by a small ditch be turned north, and the spring of the Tennessee could be turned south quite as easily. In the gap or depression in the Blue Ridge beautiful fields containing five or six hundred acres are spread out to the foot-hill. They are in cultivation, and have in them several houses well built and painted, houses of citizens who live there.
Most of this land is on the head waters of the Tennessee river, and is reached by good roads along the gently flowing river under a light grade.

From the south side there is a little ascent up to the gap and a small cascade in the creek just at the edge of the valley where there had been for many years a small grist mill built in the early settling of the country. The Charleston and Knoxville company graded a railroad through this gap more than thirty years ago. On entering from the south this little valley, on the top of the Blue Ridge at the head of the little Tennessee river, the observer is at once attracted by mountain tops which surround this flat of ground in a semi-circle like sentinels, four on the south or right hand and three on the north. This circle extends from the falls or cascade, where stood the little grist mill, to the white house, the residence of Gen. Miller which was built more than 60 years ago, at the first settling of this country. This is the house at which Dr. H. V. Miller, who died in Atlanta a few years ago, was brought up.

This little valley, at its entrance, or gateway, where the little grist mill stood, is not more than one hundred feet wide between the foot hills, yet as the Miller place, where little Tennessee leaves the valley, the distance from the hills on one side to those on the other is perhaps five or six hundred feet.

A good picture of this scene would be interesting to any one. It is attractive indeed, to fully understand and appreciated should be seen, as no pen description can give a very satisfactory result of it. We have said this much to call the attention of Georgians to this beautiful spot on our native soil, and lead some ready writer to give us a fine description of it and of the little Tennessee, two miles farther on, still in this state. We know of no valley in the mountains that excels or even equals this valley at the head of the little Tennessee river in Rabun county, nestled as it is among the hills and peaks on top of the Blue Ridge.

I write to say that in the past ages the indications are that there was a lake of water here, as there are large smooth gray, greenish and white rocks as we find them in the bed of rivers, as if they had been water washed. Also there is a shoal across the Tennessee river a half mile below Gen. Miller's residence which backed the water up and covered a large acre of land.
Some fifteen years ago this shoal was blasted out and a canal four or five miles long was opened up through the Miller farm and up the Wolf fork of the river, drying and redeeming the large area of land which is now in a very high state of cultivation. These are the evidences that it was a lake.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCT. 6, '99.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. O. P. as Second Class Matter.

Dewey will be urged to come to the Georgia State fair.

Dewey has been nominated for President by Whitney.

Official returns from seventy counties in the state show the cotton crop to be one-third off.

A fictitious cable put Liverpool cotton at 9 cents the other day causing the wildest excitement.

Three hundred negroes in Chicago tried to lynch a detective in that city the other night, who had run down and caught an escaped convict.

One hundred and fifty bales of cotton loaded on fifty wagons belonging to J. N. Lewis, of Crawford county, appeared in Macon one day last week.

Naval Cadet Wood, who was recently killed in the Philippines, was with Dewey in the battle of Manila and commanded one of the turret guns on the Oregon.

Bud Hackel, a murderer, professed religion at Cartersville the other day and was baptized. It is a great pity he didn't do so before he committed the murder.

The Chicago Record suggests that President McKinley would do well to take Admiral Dewey in in a corner and find out exactly what is the matter with Ots.

The Americans captured Forme last week after a hard fight with the loss of a single man and only five were wounded. It is said that the Filipinos at Bantam have 7,000 new Japanese rifles.

A prominent officer at Manila expresses the opinion that the United States should hold a naval station in the Philippines, make a Gibraltar of it, and pay Spain twenty million dollars to take the rest of the islands off our hands.

Three children were burned to death near Tallulah Falls Saturday night by their mother locking them up and going to a dance. Soon afterwards a lamp exploded in the room which caused the sad accident. They belonged to Mrs. Fanny Scott.

Master Ike Jackson, who only weighs 125 pounds, picked 123 pounds of cotton a few Saturdays ago in Jackson county. He goes to school but picks cotton every evening after going home and on Saturdays, and studies his lessons after dark.

The Augusta Chronicle is satisfied that the Seaboard Air Line is coming to that city. It notes the fact that the new system has paid one hundred thousand dollars for an entire block of valuable land in the heart of Augusta, and adds that the Seaboard "did not make the purchase for fun."

Mrs. Dudley, the wife of the man who killed O'Kelly and Smith in Hall recently, says that O'Kelly was a sweetheart of hers for seven years while a girl who she would have married had her parents not objected. She thinks that he was a nice man and would have treated her much better than her present husband.

It is a good sign to see all the Georgia colleges and institutions for higher education opening with larger attendance than ever before. It indicates two things—first that our people appreciate the advantage of giving their boys and girls a good education and second, that they have the money to defray their school expenses.—Columbus Sun.

The attention of those who are disposed to slant the patriotism of the south, because its sons have not fallen over each other to enlist for Philippines, is respectfully called to the official figures which show that Georgia furnished more volunteers for the war with Spain, in proportion to population, than any other state in the Union.

Mining Notes.

The steam mill at the Kentucky has been running on ore for a test this week.

The new gravel struck down at the Briar Patch is worth ten dollars to the hand.

R. W. Walker of the Crescent gold mine reports it to be giving satisfactory results.

It is thought that the Consolidated Co. will soon become the possessors of all Capt. F. W. Hall's valuable mines.

Property owners all along the iron leads in Lumpkin, Dawson and Hall counties are giving options on their lands.

The Hand canal is being cleaned out so as to have all the water necessary when the big plan is ready to be started.

The cars are running on the track down at the Hand above the Murray mill to the creek where preparations are being made to build a bridge across the stream to the Benning vein.

We hear one of our native miners say the other day that Mr. Whorton had the best deposit mine in the county down at the Calboun. Besides this there is so much of it, being at least fifteen years work.

Things are moving right along down at the Hand. Nearly all the track from different places to the plant is about completed and they hope to have the mill running by the middle of December if not before.

The new four foot vein down at the Tahleka does not only look pretty but is good. An assay was made by Mr. Peacock at the Consolidated Co.'s laboratory last week of some of the ore and his report shows it to be worth $48.80 per ton.

The letter published in last week's NUGGET from a New York gentleman in reference to iron ore has caused a correspondence to open up already between the party and some owners of such property in Lumpkin county which may terminate in something good for our section.

The hands for the Consolidated Co. work one hour less now than they have been during the past summer, this change took place first of the month, time being from 6:30 to 5:30, instead of 6 to 6. This gives their babies a chance to get a glimpse of them before they depart for work at mornings.

Fulton county receives the largest amount—$87,020—and McIntosh the smallest—$420. Lumpkin county gets $4,225. 18 widows get $1,080; 18 invalids get $865 and 38 indigent draw $1,140.

is like the fellow who asked his girl to have him, who consented and afterwards being asked why he didn't talk, replied that "enough had been said?" Any way we believe there is a trade up in some manner (probably an option) as some of the company's hands have been put to work on the property.

I. A. Legermann, of Columbus, Ohio, who accompanied other gentleman here first of last week, remained over until Saturday, who made a broader inspection of the mining situation here than the rest of his party as the most of them had been here before and he hadn't besides he is a newspaper man and wished to give the readers of the paper he represents a full description of things generally. Not only this, he represents some parties who already have options on property here and wanted to be able to tell them the true situation. We are glad to say that he went away well pleased with the mining outlook generally.

State Pensions.

Judge Richard Johnson, commissioner of pensions, has just completed the work of compiling his annual report for 1899, which is very interesting.

In the year 1898 the total number of pensions paid were 10,394, and in 1899 11,125, an increase of 731.

The new claims paid in 1899 were 1,308, loss from rolls 1898, 577, being an increase of 731.

The total amount paid in pensions during the year was $609,760, and in 1899 $652,820, an increase of $43,060.

The pensions paid to widows in 1898 were $3,830—$60 to each—amounting to $229,800, and in 1899 $3,706 at $60, $222,360, being a loss of 124, amounting to $74,440.

Loss from rolls in 1898, 177. The new claims under this head for 1899 are 53, being a loss of 124.

Under the head of invalid pensions it is shown in the report that in 1899 there were 3,453 amounting to $192,500, and in 1898 there were 3,398, amounting to $190,000, an increase of 55, amounting to $52,500. The new claims paid in this year, 1899, were 178. Loss from rolls of 1898 is 123, showing an increase of 55.

Fulton county receives the largest amount—$87,020—and McIntosh the smallest—$420. Lumpkin county gets $4,225. 18 widows get $1,080; 18 invalids get $865 and 38 indigent draw $1,140.

Porter Springs Closed.

The last of the guests at the Queen of the Mountains left for home last Tuesday and the hotel closed. This has been a profitable season, as the hotel was full to overflowing all summer. This makes twenty five years that C. L. Farrow has owned and conducted the hotel, making it a popular resort. He sometimes claims though it may be his last, but we would regret to see him give it up. He doesn't claim to be a hotel man but under his management the Queen of the Mountains has flourished while other like resorts in North Georgia have gone down.

Turner Quillian was over again from Hall county latter part of last week on a hunting expedition.

At Mrs. Stricklands you will find a nice line of ladies capes, dress skirts and belt buckles.

J. G. Rosenthal, of Delaware, Ohio, came in Wednesday night in company with two other gentlemen whose names we did not learn.

A protracted meeting will begin at the Dahlonega Baptist church next Sunday. Dr. Landrum, of Atlanta, and others have promised to be on hand.

Last Wednesday one old man got a nickel worth of tobacco for his vote. Such men ought to be in congress. It would not cost so much to buy them out.

We regret to have to chronicle the death of Guy, the little three and a half year old boy of Col. and Mrs. W. S. Huff which occurred Wednesday night after an illness of two days of crop.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed various nostrums and concoctions failing to come with a general treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, GA., OCT. 6 '99.

Young man, stay single.

There are now seven prisoners in jail at Dahlonega.

Dahlonega's charter will be amended when the legislature convenes.

A new lot of eight day clocks—half hour strikes, at G. H. McGuire, the jeweler.

Leora Pitner, the picture man of Atlanta, was in Dahlonega this week on business.

New corn is being brought to market which opened out at 45 cents per bushel.

Presiding Elder Cook remained at home to rest this week and let Rev. D. M. Edwards fill some of his appointments across the Blue Ridge.

Our citizens frequently receive prices for job work from parties living in other places but they are still able to get their work done right here at home cheaper.

We ceased publishing commis-sioner of agricultural reports because the most of the farmers in this section wouldn't give up their old mode of farming if they could double their money.

We have noticed several negroes recently in Dahlonega selling the life of Dewey. It is much more pleasure and safer to do this than to enlist in the army and make a voyage across the ocean.

Bob Long who killed Clark in this county some time ago, was seen over in Fannin county a few days ago. There is a very good size reward for him but none of the people over there seem to want the money.

Some negroes were out serenading Tuesday night and the following is the result: Mary Roberts, Ida Brown, Lew Williams, Alvin Coffey and Sarah Roberts were all fined a dollar each and cost for disorderly conduct.

J. W. McDonald, a former citizen of Lumpkin county, but now a resident of Jackson, was up on a visit this week, together with his family. They will hereafter get the news from their old home country through the NUGGET.

Carry your eggs and chickens and produce to Smith Bro's, Porter Springs. They will pay you 12 1/2 cents for eggs and 12 1/2 cents for good fryers, etc., and sell you goods cheap. Thanking our friends for past favors, hoping to have a continuation of their patronage, we remain, yours respectfully, W. H. Smith & Bro.

Dahlonega has a negro wedding every Sunday now. Another one is booked for next Sabbath. Harrison Anderson is the buck. He has been going around for some time with his mouth puckered up when not smiling, and Eps popping together, sounding like two large chips, in anticipation of the wedding day.

Judge Tis is having some changes made in the court room so as to make it more convenient and comfortable. The judge's stand will be lowered a foot or so and the jury will be supplied with good chairs. Some good lamps should be purchased so as to be able to give bright lights when needed during court. It doesn't speak well for our court house just to have one little lamp burning a three quarter of an inch wick these precious times.

Along in the spring Wly Wimpy and John Davis, who were making a crop together on H. F. Anderson's farm, hung up garments to scare the crows, among them being a dress. Afterwards they missed this garment. It may be that there is some blockader up there too who dons a woman's dress when he sells liquor. We believe that every tub should stand on its own bottom. If men wish to sell liquor they should keep on their breeches and not dress up in female attire. Women have enough to worry without this.

J. H. Moore, one of our market men is down sick.

E. E. Crisson is making some repairs on his residence.

Little Frank, son of Presiding Elder Cook, is sick with fever.

Miss Alice Landrum, of Rome, Ga., is here on a visit to relatives.

L. B. Crawford is going to repair his dwelling and store house occupied by merchant Copeland.

Messrs. Tate & Sons residence and dwelling were commenced last Tuesday. James Kirkham, of Jay, has the contract.

A gentleman will move here from Pickens county and open out a marble yard if he can get a suitable place.

James Smith is quite sick. It is the first sickness Mr. Smith has ever had and it goes pretty hard with him. He was never sick a day before in his life.

Cicero Jarrard came in last Monday and made an affidavit before the proper officer that the still recently destroyed near Jacob Cain's, belonged to him, and not to Mr. Cain. This is the right way for a man to do. It will relieve Mr. Cain, an innocent man, from being punished.

Girls and lone women will have to be very watchful since so many strangers have appeared in our town. We learn that a strange negro stepped into a woman's house in the outskirts of town the other day and took his seat in the room with a girl in the absence of any of her folks and remained until she called her brother. This caused him to skip out.

Presiding Elder Cook certainly has a bias of country to travel over in the discharge of his ministerial duties. His territory includes eleven of the mountain counties including a portion of two others. He visits 83 churches four times a year, traveling annually a distance of 5,000 miles. This long distance is made in a buggy drawn by his two faithful black horses.

The committee from the Board of Trustees of the N. G. A. College, would not accept the first kiln of brick finished for the Bostwick Hall on account of them being too inferior. Mr. George, the contractor, had gone to Atlanta to bring back his masons to go ahead with the work, but he will have no use for them for awhile yet. This will greatly retard the progress of the work on this building which was hoped it would be completed in the latter part of this year.

We are glad to learn that Frank Byrd who was stabbed by Charlie Dotson in Dawson county is rapidly improving and will soon be well unless he gets a back set in some way, although he was reported as being dead a time or two. It is only sixteen miles to Dawsonville and it looks like we might get the straight of any thing that distance but we can't do so every time. We saw a gentleman from that section last Monday who is perfectly reliable and he gave us the full particulars. He said that it is not likely that Dotson will be hurt as he was not to blame for what he did. Byrd was trying to take his liquor away from him. Charley is out on a $250 bond and back at home.

We understand that the Wimpy's of Lumpkin county and a Mr. Tucker, of Dawson county, un hitched their teams from the Consolidated Co's big wagon in Gainesville after it was loaded with lumber for the Hand mine, on account of being cursed by Mr. Burns, the manager. We have been expecting trouble for some time on account of this swearing as but few southern men like to be cursed by each other, much less by a northern man, and we have no idea that any of the northern people would like for a southern man to go up there and curse them. There are better ways than this. If a man does not suit another with his work there is a way to get rid of him and save all of this cursing which is liable to bring about trouble.

We are told that the chestnut crop in the mountains is almost a failure.

Lumpkin County's finance committee meets next Monday with J. H. Jenkins chairman.

The corn crop is good in this section, and every industrious farmer will have plenty to do him and some to sell.

The board of education of Lumpkin county held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday, at James Kirkham, of Jay, who was absent.

The frost last week slightly injured sugar cane, causing the farmers to hastily go to work making up for fear that more frosts will visit them soon.

More acorns this season than has been for fifteen years, say those who live in the mountains, giving the hogs a chance to get fat where there is no stock law.

Marshal Anderson cribbed one of the Elrod boys and Harris Anderson, both colored, Tuesday for not paying a fine imposed on them some time ago, according to agreement.

We had a pleasant call from Dr. Shope this week who lives at Cash, Gordon county, Ga. We are satisfied the Doctor is doing well on account of the name of the town. If we ever leave Dahlonega we will go there sure.

Several parties came in last Tuesday to purchase the L. Q. Meaders farm which was advertised to be sold by a party holding a trust deed to it, but it didn't sell. The one interested didn't appear and it is supposed that the claim against it has been settled.

But little property was sold last Tuesday by the sheriff—only two pieces of property were advertised and the claim against one of them was settled, being the property of McDuffie R. Moore. That of William Postell was sold and bid in by Ben F. Anderson, Jr., for $100.

We regret to say that Jay post office will be discontinued again in a few days. This will doubtless be the last time they will get an office at that place as it has been re-established and discontinued so often that the post office authorities are getting tired of being bothered so much.

James Hall, of Mill Creek district, has a butting sheep. While the New Union Association was in session last Friday and Rey. James Higgins was out on the floor discussing some subject, this sheep jumped into the door and was making a straight run for the speaker when two other divines—Reys C. W. Stargel and J. W. Parks, grabbed the lamb, one by the horns and the other by the tail, creating a good deal of laughter when they headed it towards the door, one pulling its head and the other twisting its tail. Then the speaker finished his talk, having one of the most pleasing congregations that ever gathered in a church.

Col. Farrow has spent more private money on the public roads of Lumpkin county than any other man in it—more than any twenty-five all put together, and he is still spending money on them although he is a resident of Gainesville. It's true it is his own in terests but it benefits others. You make good roads any where and it benefits the whole neighborhood and every one that travels them. Recently he bought the right of way for his telephone and was going to make another beneficial change in the road in the upper part of the county. He had paid Mr. Cain and others for such right and was to give Eas Anderson $10 to go through his land. Every thing was moving along smoothly and the hands were grading the road right along till they came to Anderson's property, when the wife stepped out and commanded them to stop. She said the land was hers and they could not make any road through it. So the new road was knocked in the head after the Colonel had been out a good deal of money.

We understand that the Wimpy's of Lumpkin county and a Mr. Tucker, of Dawson county, un hitched their teams from the Consolidated Co's big wagon in Gainesville after it was loaded with lumber for the Hand mine, on account of being cursed by Mr. Burns, the manager. Work is going right ahead on the Bassinger house.

We learn that Mrs. J. H. Mc Kee and Mrs. H. L. Blackwell are both sick.

There is more criminal business for the next Superior Court in this county than has been in years. J. W. H. Hutcheson was up a short while Tuesday from Aurora. We are always glad to see our old friend. He is large and tall and clever enough.

During the next three weeks on we will have a lot of mens' and women's shoes that we will sell with very little profit.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Our friend Gus Hyden, of Dawson county, was up awhile the other day. He says that he would move to this county if he could buy a farm reasonable.

Presiding Elder Cook, editor of the Dahlonega District Messenger, is going to get out a sixteen page edition, beautifully illustrated, containing the pictures of all the ministers in his circuit. This will be an interesting edition.

The apple crop is short in this county. James Waters, a prosperous farmer residing in the western part of the county, who generally markets five or six hundred bushels every fall, didn't make enough to require his attention.

A fellow was in Dahlonega the other day making an effort to secure a United States pension who it is said rendered no one any service but lay out in the woods during the war and killed squirrels. There are already too many of this kind on the roll.

Alarm clocks $3c, glass tumblers 3s, slates, cups and saucers, knives and forks cheap. Horse brushes 9 to 23, bound novels 10, coffee mills 17 and 33, calico, checks and sheeting 5 and 5 1/2, jeans 15 and 22, canned peaches 3 pounds 20.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

William Head, who recently returned from the west, was painfully injured during a runaway the other day. He was riding with Hatch Wimpy when the team took fright at something and ran off suddenly, throwing him backwards off of his seat, falling with his back across the wood frame. Mr. Wimpy escaped uninjured.

Some of our citizens who visited Gainesville last week went by Dadeville's house where he ended the lives of Smith and O'Kelley recently, and looked in. They say that it presents a horrible sight. The bed and pallet, with blood and brains on them, are there just as they were when the dead men were carried away. One old gentleman who went and looked, says people ought to go and burn the things for humanity's sake.

For several days here last week a strange colored man appeared in Dahlonega. He was certainly a hard looking case, but he said that he was a preacher and occupied the pulpit of nights and eat around among the brethren during the day. He failed to get up any stir religiously speaking but got some good eating. When he left some of the negroes gave a dance and the attendance was much larger than the meeting the negro carried on, all of whom seemed to enjoy it much better than his preaching.

New subscribers continue to come in. We will say to them that we may not use as fine language as some editors but we will give you an idea of what is going on. The state didn't educate boys and girls when we were growing up like it does now. Neither did we have any schools scarcely. Children had to go four or five miles to school and were glad of the chance. Now they are in easy reach of every man's door, and yet the people can't be pleased. But still we love to think of those good old times when the ash hopper was found in the chimney corner, when water was lifted out of the well with a sweep and boys went in their shirt tails until they were ten or twelve years of age and sopped out of the skillet where the meat was fried.

The showman who has been giving entertainments here occasionally for two weeks, showed out last Saturday night. There not being enough present to justify a performance the money was returned and the thing closed. It might be well enough for strangers to know that Dahlonega is not a very good place for little one-horse shows. It's true that we have a large number of miners and students here but the latter are seldom allowed to be out of nights and the miners get small wages and are so tired of nights that they don't feel like going out and giving twenty-five cents to see any one dance.

Pay attention when you see a cross mark on your paper for it means that your time has expired.

Quite a number of persons who never attend church here went over to Yellow creek camp meeting last Sunday.

Well, the election is over and our citizens will have a good long rest spell unless some office is made vacant by death.

D. C. A. Ryder, of Gainesville, will be in Dahlonega on Monday Nov. 13 and remain two weeks for the purpose of doing all kinds of dental work.

L. B. Crawford, of Blue Ridge, visited Dahlonega this week for the first time in years, in company with his wife and daughter, Mrs. West.

All who are indebted to the firm of Smith Bro., Porter Springs, either by note or account are requested to come forward and settle at once.

Walter Mappin, who was fined by the mayor week before last for some mischief, left out for Ducktown, Tenn., the following week without making any settlement. Our city fathers will not find it very profitable to do credit system.

It is reported that while Rev. J. W. West was preaching a few nights ago at Pisga church some of the boys would yell out, "That ain't right. You know that's not right." If Judge Estes gets hold of them they will wish that they never been born.

Mr. Scott who has been framing timbers for the Hand mill, has torn down the large shelter under which they have been at work on Crane's Hill since about the first of July and moved all his carpenters down to the plant where they will remain until the work is completed.

The NUGGET is only a weekly paper but it is known far and wide. A gentleman writing from Los Angeles, Cal., under date of the 22nd ult., says, "Dear Sir: I have heard so much about THE DAHLONEGA NUGGET that I would be pleased to have you send me a sample copy."

W. H. Reid came to town Thursday of last week to start off to Banks county but after finding that he could not get his NUGGET until the next morning remained over. He said that he could not get along without it. Mr. Reid appreciates our efforts in getting out a readable paper.

Whenever any one goes to building in Dahlonega there are parties here who are always ready to make some suggestions. Capt. F. M. Williams, who recently put up a new house tried to overcome this as to please all. He turned half the comb of his house one way and the other half in the opposite direction. The Captain surely expects to be a candidate for something again.

The case of Andrew Head against his brother Anderson Head, which was rendered by Squire Allen last week making the Cane Creek cut off to the stock law district null and void, will be carried to the Superior Court. Col. Bryson represented Mr. Anderson Head before the Justice and now the defendant has employed Col. Price to assist him. This is taking the right course as it is better to have him a preacher and occupied the pulpit of nights and eat around among the brethren during the day.

He failed to get up any stir religiously speaking but got some good eating. When he left some of the negroes gave a dance and the attendance was much larger than the meeting the negro carried on, all of whom seemed to enjoy it much better than his preaching. But still we love to think of those good old times when the ash hopper was found in the chimney corner, when water was lifted out of the well with a sweep and boys went in their shirt tails until they were ten or twelve years of age and sopped out of the skillet where the meat was fried.

Call and see J. H. McKees shoes before you buy.

Go and examine G. McGuire's large stock of goods.

Job work at this office by mail will receive prompt attention.

New Union Association will convene at Siloam church next year.

B. R. Meaders will pay highest cash price for fifteen or twenty bushels of rye.

The Chestatee Baptist Association will convene at Mt. Pisgah church next Friday.

Money saved is money made. I can save you some money on shoes.

J. H. MCKEE.

Lumber is being received and preparations being made to build a new foot bridge on Main street.

We are glad to note the appearance of Col. J. H. Moore and lady, after an absence of some time. They came in Tuesday.

It commenced raining here night before last being the first we have had in a number of weeks, causing all out door work to suspend yesterday.

The laborers working for the Consolidated Co. were let off time enough Wednesday to vote which swelled the voters list here considerably.

Some young men have entered college here who went to Cuba to fight for their country. They will now get an education and be ready for any emergency hereafter.

Paper is still advancing yet you can get the NUGGET twelve months for a dollar. But send in if you want it right away for fear the subscription price may advance too.

A. J. Anderson, who has been a resident of this county for years and who still has interests in it, has formed a partnership with his brother, J. R. Anderson, and are doing business at McKees, Ga., having bought out J. H. McKe, who lately moved to Dahlonega.

On Wednesday as old Uncle Jimmie Grizzel came to town he left half a bushel of corn at Wimpy's mill in the absence of the miller, and when he returned the corn was gone. A person who will stand from this old gentleman is certainly hard up or a natural born thief.

Last Tuesday we turned out three jobs of printing for parties in Atlanta. We didn't owe them, neither were we paid in second hand clothing or worn out jewelry, but got the hard cash for our labor because we did it as peat and cheaper than they do in that city.

Last Wednesday was the dullest and dryest election we ever had in Dahlonega up to noon but some of the candidates or their friends must have become a little scared at that time who caused a leak to be sprung in the vessel that held the "election justifier", making some of the voters mellow and feel good enough to vote "right."

Those who wish to have Macon's third annual carnival on October 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th, reduced rates will be given to that city by the Southern Railway, especially for uniformed bodies of 15 or more. If any of our citizens or students wish to go now is their chance to see Macon's energetic people carry out their worthy project.

Cadet Soseby found a pocket book last week and placed a notice on the front of B. R. Meaders & Sons store. Later on the loser, a poor little country girl, ascertained the finder and sent her little brother for the lost treasury. He was around about the college for nearly half a day. The boys had on their uniforms and all looked alike to him. At last it was found out what his business was and the pocket book containing the $1.50 was returned to him and he went home, one of the happiest boys you ever saw, saying nothing of the pleasure it gave the one who lost it, when he got there.

THE PUMP AT THE BIG FINDLEY MINE.

New meal opened up last week at 60 cents per bushel.

The demand for houses in Dahlonega still continues.

Next week is court and quite a lot of business will be on hand.

Send you job work to the NUGGET office if you wish it done, neat, cheap and prompt.

The grand jury will determine next week whether the bridge across the Garnet mine will be an iron or wooden structure.

It is right encouraging to stand upon the Findley ridge and look over into town and see the many improvements that have been made in Dahlonega within the past few months.

When you come to town next week bring a little change along if you wish the NUGGET. The latest string hangs on the outside of the door all the time except one day in the week during press hours.

The interior of the court house now looks splendid. Now if there was some work done on the outside of the building it would be all right. The grand jury has recommended the exterior work to be done several times but no move has been made towards it so far.

Town Marshal Anderson says that he has adopted a cash system and those who violate the law must be ready to settle up when fines are imposed. Some who have been fined heretofore have caused him a good deal of trouble before he could get it. In fact some able bodied men are lying out now to keep from paying a two or three dollar fine.

It looks like the colored people of Dahlonega are going to turn their churches into dancing rooms. Frequently big suppers are had in them and those who attend laugh and joke and always enjoy themselves. Very often some use a small quantity of liquor which generally proves beneficial to the town treasury.

We present to you this week a view of the large pump at the Findley mine belonging to the Consolidated Co., which originally cost $7,000 so we are informed. This remarkable piece of machinery is located at the base of the mountain and furnishes 600 gallons of water per minute at an elevation of 463 feet. There is nothing like it in this country.

Day at the state fair will be a grand chorus of 1,000 negro voices. The singing alone will be interesting.

Rev. D. M. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist church at Dahlonega preached at the Methodist church here Sunday morning and night. He also held the 4th quarterly conference Monday morning in the absence of the P. E., Rev. Ellison R. Cook, who was kept away because of sickness in his family. His sermons were appropriate and provoked much favorable comment.—Blue Ridge World.

A few days ago Henry Williams, colored, decided that he would run away off down to Gainesville and keep from paying a fine which had been imposed upon him by Mayor Price. He was gone only a few days before he came back driving a hack loaded with passengers. Some one took his place in the edge of town and Henry slipped around to John Austin where they were playing a social, thinking that he would not sharp the marshal, but he missed it. He had not been there long until the marshal went in and found him sitting up in one corner putting his foot and clutching like a hen, keeping time with the music. This all ceased and it was not long until the clutching negro found his way into the caboose where he remained until some of his friends paid him out. The way of the transgressor is hard.

A notice stuck up in the Dahlonega postoffice reads as follows: No letters will be delivered until they are received. If you don't get a letter or a paper on the day you expect it have the postmaster look in all the boxes and down in the cellar also. It ought to be there somewhere. He likes to look for you. If your friend won't write to the postmaster. If the postmaster tells you there is no mail for you, put on a grieved expression and say there ought to be some. He is probably hiding it for the pleasure of having you call two or three times. Ask him to look again. If you don't get your paper write to the editor and give me the devil.

The special feature of Negro Day at the state fair will be a grand chorus of 1,000 negro voices. The singing alone will be interesting.

Cotton is still advancing and the farmer is happy.

The blockaders down in Pike county are making sorghum whisky.

The town district pays $48,000 more than half the total taxes of the entire county.

The railroads have failed to submit any plains and the Atlanta depot is not in sight yet.

Admiral Dewey and Lieut. Brumby have accepted Atlanta's invitation to visit the state fair.

A cablegram from Gen. Otis states that 400 miles were lost recently on American transport going to the Philippines.

A Washington special says about 13,000 of the last volunteers will be transported to the Philippines at once.

Last Tuesday the insurgents came within four miles of the heart of Manila and fired at the Americans with their long range guns.

An expert in the New York clearing house is quoted as authority for the opinion that the Dewey celebration left in that city not less than $5,000,000 of extra money.

Atlanta will lose headquarters of the department of the gulf, as the secretary issued an order discontinuing this military department and merging it into the department of the east with headquarters at New York.

A scheme to rob the Columbus bank the other night failed. A forged note was delivered to the cashier who lives out of town, signed by the chief of police, for him to come at once. But the cashier didn't go as he knew that it was not the chief's handwriting.

Thousands of grasshoppers in a great swarm made their appearance in LaGrange last Friday night about 11 o'clock. They are two or three inches long and some of the citizens thought that burglars were trying to break in when they struck the houses. They also appeared in Newnan.

Defectives Phillips and Tankersley passed through Blue Ridge Monday on their way back to Dalton from Union county where they had been after W. M. Jones, the slayer of Policeman Hannah. They stated that they followed Jones from Dalton through Murray, Gilmer and Fannin counties to the home of his relatives in Union where they lost all trace of him and it is supposed that they had spirited him away. There is a reward $700 for his capture, and it is believed that he will yet be caught.—World.

A well-known preacher who has been gathering data relative to divorces in this country, with a view to promoting uniform marriage laws in the several states, has learned that the Dakotas are not by themselves in the matter of great numbers of divorces granted. He finds that in one county of Illinois there have been granted in one year 833 divorces, and in one county of Massachusetts in the same length of time 600 divorces. New England as a whole has a record for the twelve months of 2,000 divorces.

If there is a boy or girl in your reach, whisper to him or her some thought of the glory of climbing up hill, the top hill to be attained, the climax and all the best of life lying before; opportunity, dauntless hope, infinite possibilities, and the unspeakable wealth of aspirations, all the possession of youth and young manhood and young womanhood. Who that has the face toward the sunset and feels the downward ease of the other side of the hill but would exchange all that life has brought of wealth, of friends and almost of the barefoot boy or girl who hails the hill and the sunrise before them?

Mining Notes.

Every thing is moving along smoothly in mining circles as usual this week.

Capitalists are invited to come and examine our mineral resources and see what we have in the way of gold and iron ores.

A man who is in a position to know informed us the other day that much valuable mineral property would change hands in a short time here.

Capt. Adams, the president of the Consolidated Co., has returned after a short absence from Dahlonega. He is a man of business qualifications and keeps a watchful eye over the interests of his company.

It will be seen by reference to another column that the Luzon gold property is for sale. This property has heretofore been known as the Fred Price gold lot, situated within the corporate limits of Dahlonega, upon which some rich veins have been struck.

Messrs. Mark H. Griffin and D. R. Wolfe, of Etna, Ohio, after spending a couple of days last week looking over the mines, took their departure Friday afternoon. They were very favorably impressed with our mineral resources, and talked as if they would make an investment. They left via the Barlow mine and saw something down there no doubt that made them open their eyes.

The probabilities are that the world's gold production will continue to increase for a number of years to come. Processes have lately been invented by which ore which yields only $2 per ton, can be profitably worked. Ten years ago ore that did not yield as much as $6 per ton was regarded as worthless. The amount of the low grade ore "in sight" is said to be practically incalculable. There are millions of dollars' worth of it in the hills of Georgia alone. New reducing and refining works are being constructed in all of the gold bearing sections of the country.

They are still making new discoveries down on the Dahlonega property. A very rich eighteen inch vein was struck latter part of last week. Messrs. Murray and Moon brought some of the ore up last Friday. One piece was some larger than a man's head, which was placed on a table in their office and stood off several steps and could plainly see the glittering gold in the stones. Even older men than we are could see it. And this is not all, they are opening up a large body of low grade ore which measures from eight to ten feet across, just the right kind to keep a common ten stamp mill running profitable for some time to come, say nothing of the other big bodies of ore already in sight. These owners certainly have something that they can depend upon. They don't have to hunt for it as it is already found.

The Consolidated Co. has increased its force of hands within the past two weeks to more than three hundred. Last Saturday there were on the roll 275 men at the Hand mine besides a large number that were at work on the ditch and other places. The supply of water to the plant has to be increased. In order to do this a ditch will be cut from the Mote creek, we understand, to some point on the Hand canal, which is now being widened to six feet in the bottom and will carry a large volume of water. This necessitates the enlarging of the one mile wooden tube three miles from Dahlonega as well as two others on the line, one being at the Paupers home and the other at John Butlers. This requires a good deal of work as the tubes are about two and a half feet in the clear made of wooden staves 2x6 inches 12 feet long banded together with two inch bands every two feet. The tubes will be enlarged to four feet in the clear. The work of tearing up the old ones is going on now. The iron tubes across the Yahoola will not have to be molested as they have a sufficient fall and are strong enough to carry a large stream of water.

New Civil Cases Docketed.

The records in the clerks office of Lumpkin county show that the following civil suits have been filed with him since the last term of the court:

Lucy Ann Head vs. Rosa Larmon and J. B. Larmon. Complaint for land.

H. C. Hughes vs. H. D. Ingalls. Complaint.

Joel A. Edwards vs. Frank W. Hall et al., board of education of Dahlonega graded school. Complaint.

F. W. Hall Mdse. Co. (two cases) plaintiff in f. q. vs. Jackson Norrell, defendant in f. q. and Grizelle Norrell claimant.

F. M. Rider vs. Millie Rider. Libel for divorce. Plaintiff alleges that defendant left his home and wandered about over the county having no fixed place to stay.

A Normal Department in the College.

One of the most important departments of the North Georgia Agricultural college is the normal course now offered by that institution.

This course is intended to prepare teachers, not for primary work alone, but for advanced big school work, and turns out men and women well prepared to superintend our secondary schools.

Arthur Thompkins says this is one of the most thorough courses of its kind in the South. So well pleased was Dr. Curry with the work being done by this department of the college when he visited it last spring, that he promised President Stewart to supply a specially trained teacher for a model school. Dr. Curry has made good his promise, and Miss Willie Mary Sciffe, a highly efficient instructor, will take charge of the model school on the 17th of this month.

How to Keep Peaches From Freezing.

Mr. EDITOR:

As another evidence that a peach encased while in the bud, in ice, will not be killed by the cold of weather, there has been, by my request, Mr. J. W. Moose, discovered on the farm, three miles north of Dahlonega, eight nice peaches.

The young limbs on which these peaches grew, lay on the ground all last winter. These were the only peaches in the orchard, the cold having killed all the rest.

Having previously seen what Mr. Lunsford reported last spring, on this subject, I thought this confirmatory evidence should be known.

N. F. HOWARD.
Oct. 7, 1899.

Dr. Burt, of Dawsonville, has been in the city a time or two this week.

There are many beautiful building sites here if you want to make Dahlonega your home.

The state oratorical contest takes place in Atlanta Nov. 15. Mr. F. H. McCleskey will represent the N. G. A. College.

New lumber yard at end of Park Street, 30,000 feet for sale. See Ray Burt at yard or write A. J. Anderson, McFee, Ga., for prices and terms.

It will be seen from a notice elsewhere that a bill will be introduced in the next General Assembly to amend the charter of the town of Dahlonega.

The fourth and last quarterly conference of Lumpkin county will be held at Sonie's Chapel church on Nov. 25, which is Saturday before the 4th Sunday.

A soldier by the name of Shields wished to be promoted in the U. S. army and stated that he at one time was commandant of the cadets at Dahlonega. Col. Price, president of the board of trustees was written to by the authorities, and he couldn't even find his name on the roll of students. This caused the office seeker to lose his grip.

Business has become so lively with the evil doers that Mayor Price holds a court nearly every night to dispose of some one case so they can contribute something to the county's treasury.

Aaron and Andrew Stephens, two colaged brothers, were before him Wednesday night for participating in some "fun" last Sunday, and were assessed each $100 for the year 1899 to wit:

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, GA., OCT. 13 '90.

Do you wish to buy a white sewing machine cheap. If so call at the NUGGET office.

Maj. McClure, of Dougerty, Ga., was up awhile last Sunday in company with his wife.

A large force of hands are at work on the Bostwick Hall, pushing the work forward as rapidly as possible.

It is announced that Mr. F. L. Reese, of Dahlonega, and Miss Julia Bowen of Sparta, Ga., will wed on Nov. 1st.

Look on the fourth page and see what G. McGuire, the jeweler has to say, and when you come to town next week call and see him.

Quite a quantity of blockade liquor was brought to town last Monday and dealt out to various customers during broad open day light.

A fine drove of cattle passed through Dahlonega last Friday for the lower market from Union county belonging to one of the Mr. Gooches.

The workmen already have half of the Passenger House moved out into the beautiful grove above the Consolidated Commissary and leveled up nicely.

Four hundred and fifty visitors were at Porter Springs, all told, during the season closed a few days ago. The capacity of the hotel being only 150 guests.

The government has ceased paying Wm. Postell a pension unless he can get up evidence to show that he didn't desert, and so notified him a few days ago.

Last Sunday afternoon cadet N. H. Maddox got a little too cold to be comfortable in his room and decided he would go out and saw some wood to make a fire. He had scarcely begun to use the saw when a fair one whom he often sees in a street corner near him. He could not bear the thoughts of the young lady seeing him violate the Sabbath so he lit over a picket fence three feet and a half high and started bounding away but as he turned his face backward to see what had become of the girl he fell headlong over a rock wall, turned a complete somerset and left his indelible likeness where he struck in the yard.

On last Saturday afternoon a broad breasted man, believed by some to have on a black dough face, was riding at most two great a speed over the public square and streets of Dahlonega to suit the marshal at a season like this when fantastic rides are not on the program. So Marshal Anderson halted the rider and caused him to vacate his seat, when lo and behold he found it to be an ugly negro by the name of Spriggs who had not too much liquor in his tank to be sociable but who delighted to ride it seems. He was escorted to the calaboose where he remained until he was willing to take a view of the town a foot and in a more quiet manner. One cost.

A negro man from Atlanta, who worked down at the Hand mine, was painfully injured by being struck twice while holding a dray last Saturday. He came to town terribly frightened and made his way to Dr. Whelchel's office with both arms tied up swinging in front of him apparently perfectly useless. The Doctor dressed the mashed limbs, wrote a prescription and the poor fellow went out hunting for the drug store with the piece of paper in his mouth. Afterwards he was told by some one that his arms would not off, which doubly frightened him and he made the Doctor's second call. Dr. Whelchel assured him that he would be able to go to work in four or five days and the negro went away happy. It might be well enough to say that it will not be necessary to call out the troops for his protection as it was purely an accident and the one who did it was also a negro.

Most of the college boys have received their new uniforms.

The Ladies Aid Society will give an oyster supper at Halls Villa Tuesday evening.

Chickens are so high here now that a country editor can hardly afford to eat the gravy.

Don't forget to examine our shoes while in town at court. The prices will positively be larger after October 31st.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Irish potatoes are retailing at 80 cents per bushel. There are many people here now, which is a big benefit to the farmers of this section in the sale of their produce at a good price.

G. H. McGuire, the jeweler, will be found at his place of business both day and night, that is during business hours, ready to do all kinds of work in his line upon short notice at reasonable prices.

The colored school teacher still carries out the old rule, giving school on Saturday instead of Monday, the latter day being recently adopted by the white teachers. Any child prefers Saturday for holiday.

The weather was so unfavorable that the protracted meeting didn't begin at the Baptist church last Sunday according to notice given. This denomination favors water but not for two or three days in succession.

Will Stephens, colored, was up before the mayor this week for having made his frequent glasses of toddy strong enough as to cause him to curse out his grand mother and other relatives last Sunday, who was required to pay a $5 fine with the usual cost.

The court house stand is the very thing needed by politicians.

They can rear and pitch and talk to their countrymen with great streams of flowing from their mouths without any danger of breaking a limb should they fall as the plant forms only 12 inches higher than the floor.

A petition is being circulated in Mill Creek by some land owner favoring the stock law, endeavoring to get up the required number of signers to cause a stock law election to be held in that district. So far the number has not been secured but will later on as the stock law soon goes into effect in an adjoining district in Dawson county and it is a thing that cuts its way.

The finance committee has completed its work in less time than at or before any court heretofore been engaged only four days, and made some discoveries that will be beneficial to both the state and county. They found that the Belz mining property has not been returned for taxes for neither last or this year. They find a small error of twenty dollars in the tax receivers books which is a big improvement on previous digests.

We are reliably informed that the hands at the Betz mine below Aurora, contemplated a strike last Wednesday if they were not promptly paid up for labor already performed. Mr. Scupin has charge of the mine who, when he gives the hands a due bill for their labor requires them to receipt for the same on the pay roll. We understand that some old claims of hands for three months or more are yet unsettled causing them to make this move. Poor men cannot well afford to wait so long for their money.

At the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court twenty one true bills were returned, and our efficient sheriff has succeeded in arresting every one of the defendants except one who is a resident of North Carolina that came over to Porter Springs and hung out his shingle, practicing without registering in the clerk's office as the Code of Georgia directs. He would have been arrested too but he went back home before any true bill was returned. This shows that sheriff Davis has fully discharged his duty in this respect.

All inferior brick are being laid aside and work moving right along on the Bostwick Hall.

Solicitor Charters and other Dahlonega attorneys attended White county court this week.

Onions are retailing already at $1.50. Only like fifty cents being as high as they were here last year.

By reading a notice elsewhere you will see that the tax collector is about ready to receive your money.

Frank Reese, who recently returned from a weeks visit down in Middle Georgia, says that he found no place as lively as Dahlonega on his route.

Dr. C. A. Ryder, of Gainesville, will be in Dahlonega on Monday Nov. 13 and remain two weeks for the purpose of doing all kinds of dental work.

The pastor of the Methodist church informs us that the attendance at church has gotten to be so large that the building will have to be enlarged if it increases much more.

E. W. Strickland has recovered from his recent injuries so he can ride to his work on horseback. Some persons would have been hobbling about yet and making an effort to draw a pension.

We invite your attention to our patrons ads. and ask you to trade with them. Do this, keep your money at home and it will enable you to get goods still cheaper from them than you do now later on.

City Marshal Jack Magness is still holding the fort at Blue Ridge. Jack is a former citizen of Lumpkin county who has been holding the position for a year or so. This is evident that he makes a good officer.

Charlie Hunter and Henry Underwood have again formed a co-partnership in the barber business. They are both good barbers and understand how to make you look like a peeled onion. If any man having gray hairs wants them changed so he will regain his beauty, this is the shop to go to.

Last Saturday it rained out everything except the blockaders. Notwithstanding the road was muddy and sloppy and the day cold some of them made their way to town and sold enough of moonshine liquor to make indulgers feel happy and rich. Alfred Walker and Newman McDonald got a little too much of the overjoyful on board, causing them to act in a manner as to have to sleep in the calaboose all night and until a late hour Sunday morning. One dollar and cost each settled the nights lodging, thus making it more costly than if they had stopped at a hotel.

Mr. Blackburn completed painting Oak Grove school house this week, making ten that he has finished in the county in style during the past few months. He will suspend this work for the present. Later on we suppose the work will be resumed until every school house in the county is painted. This is certainly a big improvement. Only a few years ago there were less than a dozen school houses in Lumpkin county, and they were made of logs with cracks in the buildings large enough almost for the least pupils to crawl through. Now we have more than twenty-five comfortable buildings made of plank.

Two of our patrons whose ads. were out this week made arrangements to have them run twelve more months. This proves that it pays them to advertise in the NUGGET. In fact one told us that he couldn't get along without advertising. If you will scan over our advertising column you will find that every merchant and business man whose ad. appears is doing a prosperous business and building right up. They are not advertising with us on account of some old debt for we do not owing any of them. It is because it pays them. We are glad of it for we never favored paying out money for nothing ourselves and we would not want any of them to do so either.

Corn and fodder are both scarce in Dahlonega.

Laborers are coming in here from all parts of the country to get employment.

Mrs. Vaughn, of Dawsonville, is up this week on a visit to her son William who has a very sick child.

We regret to learn that Homer, a son of E. W. Strickland of our town is sick with fever down at Swainsboro.

Drug Store, an established business of fifteen years at Dahlonega, Ga., for sale. Address,

Dr. E. C. CARTLIDGE,

95 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Matilda Shelton, mother-in-law of J. B. Brown and J. C. Stargel of this county, died in Forsyth county on the last day of September.

It will pay you to buy the shoes you expect to use this winter before our low priced sale is closed. Look in our show window as you pass. See prices there will save you money.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

The deputy sheriff of Habersham county came here and in company with sheriff Davis went down to the Hand mine Wednesday and arrested Tom Lewis who was wanted in that county for trading mortgage property. He had not only done this but had forfeited his bond.

Mr. Edwards, brother to I. C. Edwards, who built the public school house in Dahlonega, has sued the trustees of the school for near $300, through his attorney, Col. W. S. Huff. The work was never paid for but the plaintiff alleges that he didn't get his part.

We notice that Dr. Head, brother of the two Mr. Heads who had a litigation before Squire Allen a few days ago in reference to the possession of a hog, comes out in a half column article in last weeks Signal criticising the action of the justice. We regret that it has come to the point that an official cannot act on a case without being publicly criticised in the newspapers and his decision condemned in such a manner as to create a case in court, as we understand that this matter will be presented to the grand jury next week for an action. And it is still more regretful that we have a law in our land that makes brothers, neighbors and friends become enemies, like the stock law, which has caused all of this trouble.

Charlie Hunter and Henry Underwood have again formed a co-partnership in the barber business. They are both good barbers and understand how to make you look like a peeled onion. If any man having gray hairs wants them changed so he will regain his beauty, this is the shop to go to.

Dahlonega is spreading herself. Houses are springing up in every direction.

We are glad to see F. H. Kennedy, who has been sick for some days at Park street Inn, able to be up again.

The Consolidated Co. already has a large number of brick on the corner lot near the store and teams continue hauling more. It is said that a bank will be erected on this desirable lot. A bank in Dahlonega sounds like business.

There is no need of a single tax payer being on the insolvent list or having a f. a. issued against him in Lumpkin county this year, for every one who wants to work can get employment and the cash for the same once a month.

The Tax Collector has been engaged several months for the Consolidated Co., doing carpenters work, but now he has ceased this kind of work and for the next few months will visit each district and receive what you are due the state and county.

A printer is in a position to tell an honest man. Whenever a subscriber comes up promptly with his payments according to promise and does not try to sneak round and lie out of it, you can mark him down as an honest person. Printers have a better chance to find out this thing than any body else.

Our county treasury is not entirely empty yet as shown by account of treasurer McGee in his report to the finance committee this week but the funds are running very low. Total amount in the treasury at the time report was made $270.26, of the following funds: County fund $19.48, bridge 40 cents, jury $2.85, jail $19.20 and pauper $51.28, making a total sum as first stated.

It is a little singular that there are so many acorns this fall and but few chestnuts. Though when we come to think it may be on account of the stock law. A number of persons are unwilling for poor people's hogs to eat the chestnuts and it may be that quite likely the Great Ruler has decided that it is they are not pleased with His blessings that He will cut off the supply to us to some extent.

The large number of hands employed on the Bostwick Hall and those working for the Consolidated and other companies, cause our town to present a lively appearance after work hours are over. And the money they receive and spend make it beneficial either directly or indirectly to every person residing in the county. Say nothing of the amount of money spent by the large number of students for board and various other things. It all amounts to many hundreds of dollars per month.

We have been requested by Col. Farrow to say to our readers that our little paragraph in last weeks paper about Mrs. Ens. Anderson objecting to his cutting a new road through her land didn't exactly give all the facts of the case and might cause a wrong impression as to Mrs. Anderson's objection. The Colonel says that Mrs. Anderson now fully consents to the changes originally contemplated some years ago but that what she objects to is a new route that is now proposed. The Colonel says the changes originally contemplated were left at his house, and Mr. Thomas left Monday to secure his animal. This shows the benefit of a newspaper. Mr. Thomas had given up all hopes of ever seeing his horse again when his eyes fell upon this little fine line ad.

The NUGGET will only cost you $1 for a year.

Eggs have reached the 15 cents notch in Dahlonega.

No trouble to sell country produce in Dahlonega now.

It keeps many wagons busy now to supply our merchants with goods.

'Possums are ripe and the hunters horn is frequently heard now of nights.

One firm alone in Dahlonega recently sold fifteen hundred pounds of meat in a single day.

Rev. David Burt, of Dawsonville, will preach at Siloam church next Sunday.

The New Union Association will meet at Bethlehem church next year instead of Siloam, as stated in last week's paper.

The foot bridge on Main street is receiving attention now. Not before it was needed however, as it was getting very rotten and dangerous.

Mrs. Colvin, wife of Prof. Colvin, who is here teaching in the college, arrived in the city last Saturday accompanied by her daughter. We welcome them to our midst.

Mr. W. S. Marsland, the Englishman, who has been here for some time, left this week and will probably not return again. He went from here to Greenville, S. C., where he will spend a short time.

Farmers are busy now making up their cane. Won't the boys and girls have fun at the candy pullings these cool nights? This is an old time amusement but it will never go out of date in the farmers country home.

Three mechanics from Blue Ridge, two of the Mr. Rays and Mr. West, a brother-in-law of H. D. Gurley, of Dahlonega, arrived here last Tuesday, who are now in the employ of the Consolidated Co. These gentlemen have been at work in the car shops at Blue Ridge and are recommended as splendid workmen.

Squire W. J. Worley returned from a trip into Bartow, Pickens, and Cherokee counties last week where he had been securing iron ore property for the Consolidated G. M. Co. He found valuable ore all along the line and in large quantities. These options are taken for six and twelve months. A railroad may be built from Dahlonega to or through some of those counties yet. Who knows?

W. P. Price, the assistant postmaster here has gone to Atlanta to testify in the United States District Court against James McGee, charged with breaking and robbing Grace postoffice in Lumpkin county some time ago. The case comes up to day. It will be remembered that after the office had been broken open and some stamped envelopes carried away a number of them were found in McGee's possession.

During Frank Reese's trip down the country, a number of persons thought his large scarf pin made of Lumpkin county gold was a "Klondyke," imitation of gold. Some of them couldn't be made to believe that it was gold and was unearthen here. Let them come up to Dahlonega and see the gold sticking in the rock in the many veins in and near our town and be convinced. This has been one draw back to our county heretofore - people had no idea of the richness of our gold mines.

The horse of H. H. Thomas, which was hired by a stranger more than a month ago to make a short trip down into Hall county, was heard from last week through the columns of the Ellijay paper from a notice given by M. J. Moore, of Carters, Ga., that such a horse, giving description, had been left at his house, and Mr. Thomas left Monday to secure his animal. This shows the benefit of a newspaper. Mr. Thomas had given up all hopes of ever seeing his horse again when his eyes fell upon this little fine line ad.

Northern Intermeddlers.

W. H. Johnson, a negro barber in Washington, appears to take the right view of the strained relations between the whites and the blacks. He has been in business in the capital upwards of 38 years, and during that period his shop was visited by the leading men of the country. From observations he has made and reasonings that he deduced from listening to conversations from the leading representative men of the country he has come to a conclusion which he succinctly gives as follows in a published article: "The indiscreet, meddlesome northern negro and the lawless southern negro have forced the white south against us; and two-thirds of the white north, in the event of trouble, would not be for us against the white south. Blood is thicker than water. Race prejudice will always exist to a more or less extent. I do not apprehend a race war, but should one come it will justly charged up against the so-called, self-appointed negro leaders, who will not listen to the logic of current events, who for political aggrandizement or mercenary gain are unmindful of the welfare of their race."—News Herald.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, County, W. Va. struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whisky in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by F. W. Hall Mose Co.

Man's Right to Die.

It was natural that the speech of Judge Baldwin, of the supreme court of Connecticut before the American Association of Social Science should arouse a chorus of protest.

His contention was enough to startle most people. He said: "Man has a natural right to die. When he is mortally ill, it is wrong for doctors and nurses to prolong his life. It should be made illegal."

The judge will find those who are willing to subscribe to his proposition in a hopeless minority. Physicians and lawyers have especial reason for opposition.

In mitigation of his sensational deliverance the Baltimore American explains that the derangement of a cherished member of the jurorist's family several years ago has made him morbid and morose on the subject of prolonging life by scientific means under an incurable mental or bodily malady.

Whatever prompted his spectacular theory, it is opposed to the ordinary sentiments of humanity and religion. Even when a human is in articulo mortis, the conscience of both physician and nurse would revolt at relaxing any of the known methods of sustaining the vital spark as long as possible. Then, there is always the consent of the sick person in the way. No matter how long and intensely may have been the suffering, ninety-nine out of every hundred persons in extremis desire that life should be kept in the body until it and hope go forth together.

Man has the right to live, but his right to die is emerged in the will of his creator.—St. Louis Republic.

"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Massingill, of Beaumont, Texas. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera infantum who must also be thankful. It is for sale by F. W. Hall Mose Co.

"The biggest book that has ever been made" is to be presented to Admiral Dewey. Its weight is in the neighborhood of 350 pounds, and when it is opened it is five feet and two inches across. The text is composed of clippings cut from every newspaper in the country, and every one of them refers to the admiral and the war with Spain. We now begin to understand why they wanted to give Dewey a house.

takes away all fears by strengthening the vital organs. It is a medicine for baby's coming. By revitalizing the nerve centers it has brought chubby, cheering young mothers. Thousands of weak women who feared they were barren, it purifies, heals, regulates and strengthens, and good for all women at all times. No druggist would have it. No medicine is needed.

THE BOSTWICK HALL—CORNER STONE LAID SATURDAY.

There are now 160 students on the roll of the N. G. A. College and more coming in.

There are no sheriff sales for next month. This speaks well for Lumpkin county.

Put your ad. in the NUGGET if you want the people to see it and know that they are welcome to your place of business.

This time last year a man could not bring a load of lumber to Dahlonega and sell it unless it was engaged. It's done now.

We feel just exactly like the speaker of the N. G. A. College will win in the oratorical contest which takes place on the 15th of next month in Atlanta.

Since the big mining works have started up in Dahlonega officers of the law from various portions of the state find it a great place to catch "game."

The drovers from this section have just returned from Atlanta and find beef cattle dull. The price of everything is advancing rapidly except that which is of interest to the farmer.

The school children have gotten up a right nice little sum of money for the Home of the friendless children in Macon. It is better to contribute money this way where we know it is needed than to send it off to some foreign country.

The rye crop of this section was a failure this year. They are offering $1.25 per bushel for rye in Gainesville and can't get it at that. All other products are low there except good apples. They have been selling at $1.00 per bushel but very scarce as there are very few good apples any where in the mountains this year.

"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Massingill, of Beaumont, Texas. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera infantum who must also feel thankful. It is for sale by F. W. Hall Mdse Co.

CAPT. F. W. HALL.

The Wealthiest Citizen of Lumpkin County.

Two weeks ago we gave the amount of taxable property returned in each Malitia District of Lumpkin county, and to day we present to our many readers the picture of Capt. F. W. Hall, the wealthiest citizen by far residing in the county. Capt. Hall owns more than seven thousand acres of land within its borders and possesses a larger number of gold mines than any other resident in the county, saying nothing of the hotels, business houses and residences within the corporate limits of Dahlonega that are very valuable most of this property being situated right in the heart of the town. In fact he owns most of the property on two sides of the public square. The gold mines he possesses are: The Lockhart, Bast, Chestate, Fishtrap and Ivey, all being located in less than three miles of Dahlonega, considered very valuable, on some of which are large stamp mills. Besides his possessions in Lumpkin county he owns valuable city property in Gainesville, Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta, Florida and quite likely elsewhere. And Capt. Hall by his energy and perseverance has made it all right here in Lumpkin county. This should be encouraging to our young men. There is no use of going West in search of riches when they can be found right at home in Lumpkin county.

As stated in last weeks paper H. H. Thomas had gone to Murray county to get his mare which was hired by a stranger (who was afterwards learned to be Henry Burch—also going by the name of Henry Shelton) several weeks ago to make a day or two's trip down to Hall county but failed to return. Burch rode the horse to Murray county where he left it with a man until he could return in an hour or so, stating that he had swapped a yoke of cattle for the horse, but he never returned. This was on the 13th day of September. After the expiration of several days the gentleman gave notice of the horse being left at his house and Mr. Thomas went down last week and got the animal. Burch used to live in that section. He had been at work for the Consolidated Co., and quite likely decided that this was the best way to get to visit his old stamping ground once more.

Capt. F. W. Hall and wife after spending some two months and a half in the North, returned home Thursday afternoon of last week.

While Wm. Gooch, of Union county, was on his way to Atlanta with a drove of cattle last week he lost a heifer some where between Crooked creek and the foot of the mountain. The heifer is about two years old, red brindle and has crumple horns. Any information about the animal will be thankfully received by the owner, besides he is willing to pay a reasonable compensation.

Mary Postell went before Mayor Price one day last week and asked to plead guilty. "To what?" asked the mayor. "Miss —— don't want me to tell," was the reply. "I don't know what it is," says the mayor. "I must know so I can make an entry on the docket," he added. "Was it disorderly conduct?" "I reckon," the troubled woman answered with great big tears appearing in her eyes. "Oh well then," says the mayor, "if that is all I will only fine you one dollar and cost. But I will see the marshal before I make the entry." Her tears ceased to flow and the woman went off apparently happy because she had been promised that she would be fined.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCT. 20, '99

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., Post Office as Second Class Matter.

There is said to be a wild woman down in Glynn county who kills negroes.

Editor Bell of the Wire Grass Blade has entered into trouble—got married the other day.

The old court house at Morgan ton was sold the other day for one dollar. It was bid off by Dr. Prince for the North Georgia Baptist College.

Macon's carnival ending last Saturday. It was a grand affair and a great crowd was on hand each day and was certainly an occasion of much pleasure.

If all the parents having children named after Admiral Dewey will visit Atlanta when he comes to that city there will certainly be a big crowd present.

The apparatus invented by the Hungarians, Pollak and Virag to telegraph 80,000 words an hour has been tested between Berlin and Budapest. It transmitted 220 words in ten seconds.

Wes Dorsey, who killed his cousin Rus Dorsey in White county some two years ago about a child, was found guilty last week and sentenced to the penitentiary for life by Judge Estes.

The cotton oil mill recently put in operation at Gainesville is certainly proving beneficial to the farmers of Hall and adjoining counties, as cotton seed have advanced to 27 cents per bushel.

The first blood was shed in South Africa latter part of last week, so says a dispatch from London. A battle was fought and Boer destroyed a train manned by the British near Mafekeng, killing or capturing all hands.

Tom Green and Ed Scott, of Hall county, have found out that their trip to Antioch camp meeting recently was very expensive. One sold liquor and the other got drunk for which they were each fined $25 and cost or to work six months in the chain gang.

Rev. Thomas Payne, a Baptist preacher, seventy-three years old, who resides in Polk county, Tenn., on the Georgia line, has been sentenced to two months' imprisonment and fined $200 for running a moonshine distillery, by Judge C. D. Clark, of the United States court of Tennessee.

A young man must understand whether on a farm, behind the counter, or in whatever pursuit he may be engaged, that if he does not have the capacity or love for work there is no profession in which he can win success. Having this, he will find great opportunities, and some day earn his reward.

At Barnesville last week the operators of the Oxford knitting mills struck because a negro man was put to work in the same room with white girls. The manager W. M. Howard, who did this ought to be compelled to eat and sleep with this negro. The negro was removed and since then the negroes have caused sufficient trouble as to necessitate the mill being called out in order to quiet them.

Three masked men attempted to rob the bank at Sevierville, Tenn., in broad open day light last Friday by suddenly appearing and firing into the bank door. The citizens had been notified before and a guard was placed in a building near by and as soon as they fired the first shot the guard commenced shooting, resulting in one of the robbers being killed, another wounded while the third one ran but was captured. Two of their horses were killed on the spot. The man killed had lately been pardoned who was serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for killing a person. This is an other evidence that it won't do to turn murderers loose.

Mining Notes.

Some more northern gentlemen have been here during the week looking at the mines.

Mr. Steggall, of Emerson, Ga., was in Dahlonega during the week. His valuable mineral property near Auraria is already optioned to some parties for a right hand some sum of money and we are listening for it to change hands soon.

Some parties were down from the Hamby mine this week who stated that they were moving right ahead under the supervision of Mr. Collins. Some thirty hands are employed and the mill is kept constantly on the move.

Mr. Kingsbury while up last week from Auraria stated that the mine he is operating is giving very satisfactory results, paying him from $3 to $4 to the hand.

Nothing new in mining this week. Every thing moving along as usual.

What is thought to be a vein of gold has been discovered on the farm of James H. Rushing near Green postoffice. A well was dug for a gins and thirty feet below the surface a vein two feet thick was struck, which bears the appearance of having a good deal of ore. Mr. Rushing will send some of the clay to the state chemist and have it analyzed. If it is true, the Rushing boys will have a fortune, and land in the Sink Hole District will go on a boom.—Statesboro Star.

Jake Loggins struck another very rich vein on Turkey Hill property last Monday. It doesn't require any assay to determine the value of this property as the many veins already opened up show the yellow metal sufficiently to prove it to be one of the most valuable mines in the county.

Geo. Wilson is certainly making it pay in the placer diggings on Mill Creek. It is worth four dollars per day to the hand. Isn't this good enough? There are three lots and the indications are that each is very valuable. A splendid vein has already been opened up on one.

OUR POSTAL SYSTEM.
Its Wonderful Growth in the Lifetime.

We had a pleasant chat with P. M. Farrow this week, about our mail system, its commencement and its progress. When he was born no railroad had ever carried a mail pouch. The railroads commenced carrying mail in 1828, and steamboats commenced carrying mail in 1813, only twenty years before Postmaster Farrow was born. When he was a good big school boy a letter from Washington, D. C. to South Carolina or Georgia cost 25 cents postage and it contained bank checks, 75 cents.

He remembers when postage on a letter was reduced to 5 cents postage it was not going over three hundred miles but if any farther than that 10 cents. Going back of that to one hundred years ago it took a letter forty days to go from Savannah, Ga. to Portland, Me., and back, and it now goes and returns in four days. The opening of Post-offices for the delivery of mail on Sunday commenced in 1810, and caused a big row when it commenced. Originally it was a crime punished with death to rob the mail then it was reduced to whipping at the post in public, and now is a penitentiary crime. There were no such thing as postage stamps when the Colonel was a half grown boy but all postage was paid in money and usually by the person receiving the letter, but it could be prepaid. The Colonels was a student at the University of Va. when stamped envelopes were first introduced in 1833. Postal cards were not introduced until 1873.—Crack.

Laying Corner Stone of Bostwick Hall.

Last Saturday the Masonic fraternity laid the corner stone of the Bostwick Hall which is now being erected as a portion of the N. G. A. College. The ceremonies were conducted by Col. George N. Naper who graduated at the N. G. A. College in 1882, and is now Grand Marshal of the Grand Lodge of Georgia Masons. The pupils of the graded school, the battalion of cadets and the Masonic fraternity marched in order from the public square to the site of the new building. After the usual ceremonies for such occasions the Masons deposited the following articles in the corner stone: the Bible, a copy of the by-laws of Blue Mountain Lodge, a catalogue of the N. G. A. College, a copy of the DAHLONEGA NUGGET and Signal, some photographs and several coins. The stone was then sealed and a prayer offered that many centuries should elapse before the contents of the stone were again seen by man. Then after the accustomed sprinkling of the corn and pouring the wine and oil of the crowd repaired to the chapel.

Col. Price then made a lengthy address, telling in detail how the new building got the name "Bostwick Hall." It is about as follows: Twenty years ago Mr. Bostwick, northern millionaire, invested several thousand dollars in Georgia gold mines. Shortly afterwards he decided that he would devote a portion of his great wealth to the endowment of southern colleges. He gave large sums of money to several institutions and decided all his mining property in Georgia to the N. G. A. College. He requested that his name should not be mentioned in connection with this donation until he was dead. So some time after the death of Mr. Bostwick the mining property was sold for $14,000 and part of that amount is now being expended to erect the great brick building as shown on the first page of this issue that will for many years perpetuate the name of Mr. Bostwick.

Col. Napier then made an address in which he told of the pleasant memories of college day and presented some interesting facts concerning the history and purpose of masonry.

What a College Bop Thinks of Dahlonega.

A student of the college writing to the Pickens County Progress says: "I am in the beautiful little city of Dahlonega, Ga., attending the grand old North Georgia Agricultural College for the purpose of education that I may be prepared to meet the conflicts of the future life of the young man. The institution has a faculty that is well prepared to do their full duty and be a honor to their state and the institution. The school is in a progressive condition under the general supervision of Prof. J. S. Stewart and his co-workers. We are glad to say that Pickens county is well represented in number and always has been in intelligence. She registers eight this term.

Dahlonega is like our paper, it has been asleep for a long time, but the dead is alive. The town is building anew. There are large preparations being made near this place for mining gold. When this is completed and we get a railroad Dahlonega will be the center of learning. We have had the wind work of this railroad done for a number of years; we want to get the ties on it before March to keep it from blowing away."

Mr. John Doolittle, of this county, picked 457 pounds of seed cotton Saturday at the plantation of Mr. J. F. Webster, near Tabernacle, six miles west of Sandersville, John Simmons, of Washington county Mississippi, formerly held the championship record of 480 pounds in a day.—The Sandersville Progress.

$100 REWARD, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in it curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, GA., OCT. 20 '99.

Work is going right a head on Tate & Sons store house.

McCalister the life prolonger of Gainesville, is with us again selling his medicines.

The phonograph man was here this week in search of extra nickles and got quite a lot of them.

W. H. Cook, who left for Montane some months ago writes that he will move back next spring.

Last Monday was the Consolidated Co.'s pay day, causing nearly four hundred souls to feel happy.

A large number of Dawson county's most prominent citizens were in Dahlonega last Saturday.

Mrs. Witherspoon, after an absence of some time from Dahlonega, was back again a short while ago.

One day last week W. G. Spencer's stationary engine at his saw mill was steamed up so high that it turned over.

Only a few more days for our extra low price shoe sale. You will save money to come before the time is out.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

The state docket was taken up the first day Monday morning taking defendants on surprise, causing many of their bonds to be forfeited.

The business of the court this week was rushed through in a hurry by Judge Estes, thoroughly convincing those not acquainted with him that he is the right man in the right place.

The little eighteen months old girl of Wm. Vaughn died last Sunday after a short illness. Its remains were carried to Dawsonville for interment. The bereaved parents have our heartfelt sympathies.

The fourth and last quarterly conference of Lumpkin county will be held at Soule's Chapel church on Nov. 25, which is Saturday before the 4th Sunday.

Mr. Joseph Townsend and Miss Eloy Rice were wedded last Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents by Rev. W. H. McAfee. May they both live a long, happy and prosperous life.

David Mauldin, of Union county, was arrested on his first appearance in town Monday and put in jail charged with an assault with intent to murder by drawing his gun on Jim Sain the other day during a difficulty between them. A bill was returned and he made bond.

The time is drawing near for the selection of a new mayor and councilmen for Dahlonega to serve the people another year. We have no suggestions to make except ask the voters to make a good selection. It is very important.

There has been a bad feeling existing between the whites and blacks down at the Hand mine for some time which will eventually result in something serious if it is not stopped in some manner. It came near starting the other afternoon as the hands were coming from work.

A negro by the name of Jim White from Hart county, after boarding with old uncle Jim McMillan several weeks went off the other morning before day leaving a board bill of $1.40 unpaid besides stealing the negroes coat. The old negro man has to beg most he fixes upon and this loss is pretty heavy on him.

The boys tell a good joke on Jim Whitfield living near Andy Burges' over in the edge of White who owns a syrup mill. It is said that some one screwed the mill up so tight the other night that he could not operate it the next day without a good deal of extra trouble. He offers a reward of half a gallon of syrup for the aerest and delivery to him of the one who did this damage.

Capt. W. H. McAfee was elected foreman of the grand jury this week.

Sheriff Roper was up from Dawson county last Saturday to participate in the laying of the corner stone of Bostwick Hall.

Miss Mary, daughter of Mr. Ens Anderson and Mr. Dillard Grizzell were married last Sunday in the upper portion of Lumpkin county.

Every young man should have heard the lecture Judge Estes gave those two young men the other day when he went to pass sentence on them for stealing horses.

Miner Whittemire went on a little pleasure trip recently down to Dan Wilsons and when he returned found that he was minus $6.70. Right costly trip which causes him to wonder how he will get his money back.

N. C. Tank and David Anderson, two old Confederate soldiers, were up from Auraria a day or two during court shaking hands with their few old comrades who are left. Mr. Andersons name was the first on the army roll of Lumpkin county.

The graded school here has a larger attendance than was ever expected by any one. There are now 168 pupils names on the roll. The patrons are highly pleased with the progress their children are making at this institution under the management of Prof. J. M. Martin and his assistants Misses Lizzie Chapman and Belle Tharin.

Last Tuesday Judge Tate received nine bids—five for iron and four for wood—for the building of a bridge across Chestnut river at the Garnet mine, and the contract was awarded to J. B. Duckett, of Lumpkin county for the sum of $700 including the building of the pillars, bridge to be of wood. It is the first time in many years that a bridge contract has been given to a resident of the county. We are always in favor of patronizing home industry and are glad that the grand jury and ordinary look at the matter as we do.

W. D. Wilson, of Hall county, came up this week to see the president of the Dahlonega C. & G. M. Co. in reference to injuries one of his sons received in Gainesville handcuffed to a negro who was while loading some machinery belonging to the company some three weeks ago. The gentleman is advised by his attorney to demand one hundred dollars for the loss of a toe. We have cut our toes several times while trimming the nails but if a toe is that valuable we will be careful hereafter—though it may be that country editors is not so valuable. We intend to find out and if theirs are we will try to be in the employ of the company next time we trim our toe nails so we can lay in a bill for damages in case we should graze the skin. We do not know what the result will be as John L. Burns had the contract to deliver all this machinery to the mines.

Columbus McDonald died very suddenly last Friday night in Dahlonega on Crane's Hill, where he had recently moved so as to be convenient to his work in the erection of a residence for Elijah Beck. He had only recently recovered from a severe spell of sickness, though had not regained full strength. The night previous to his death he put in a full days work and apparently was enjoying his usual health though complaining of having a slight headache before retiring. At about 11 o'clock this morning he awoke just as he threw his arm across the child and when he was told that he would smother the baby he tried to say something but couldn't be understood and in a few seconds was dead. The deceased was a hard working man who leaves a wife and four small children in destitute circumstances. His penitent condition kept him from being noticed much by people but we feel satisfied that he will receive just as much attention in the world to come by the great Creator as if he had have had plenty of money.

The boys tell a good joke on Jim Whitfield living near Andy Burges' over in the edge of White who owns a syrup mill. It is said that some one screwed the mill up so tight the other night that he could not operate it the next day without a good deal of extra trouble. He offers a reward of half a gallon of syrup for the aerest and delivery to him of the one who did this damage.

There is no chance to rent a single house in town. Residences are all occupied—two or three families live in some while a number occupy tents.

B. R. Meaders raised 200 pumpkins on his lot beyond Crane's Hill. This is sufficient to supply the whole town with pies for some time to come.

Mrs. W. W. Murray arrived in Dahlonega last week in company with her son Charles who have made headquarters at Park Street Inn where Judge Murray has been for some weeks.

Wm. Head, an old Lumpkin county boy, who has recently returned from the west with his family, will likely permanently locate in Dahlonega and go into the mercantile business.

J. B. Rees and Jack Ash fell out one day last week up in Chastain district about the cutting of some wheat, which resulted in a hitch and the latter being badly bitten on the under lip. The piece was replaced which will likely grow back without disfiguring the old mouth.

Fred Harrison, of Ducktown, Tenn., arrived in Dahlonega last Tuesday. Fred used to live in Dahlonega and we are always glad to see him. He says work is moving right along at the copper mines now. It's quite likely that Fred will move back to Dahlonega at an early day.

A. L. Wimpy, one of our oldest subscribers, always keeps his subscription to the NUGGET paid in advance and when he hauls out we can't pick it up on our shoulder and return it, like some we had to, gotten from others. He hauls good, big honest loads.

When a defendant in the U. S. Court succeeds in getting his case postponed from court to court until it finally disappears without any trial and the said defendant pays out a whole lot of money for such disappearance according to his own statement, who gets the money? We tell you there is something rotten in Denmark.

Harris Postell was brought in last Saturday from Gainesville by U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzell handcuffed to a negro who was while loading some machinery belonging to the company some three weeks ago. The gentleman is advised by his attorney to demand one hundred dollars for the loss of a toe.

We have cut our toes several times while trimming the nails but if a toe is that valuable we will be careful hereafter—though it may be that country editors is not so valuable. We intend to find out and if theirs are we will try to be in the employ of the company next time we trim our toe nails so we can lay in a bill for damages in case we should graze the skin. We do not know what the result will be as John L. Burns had the contract to deliver all this machinery to the mines.

We haven't seen the pians yet but understand that the Consolidated M. Co. is going to erect a magnificent 40 room hotel on the Bassinger lot recently purchased, together with a barber shop and all other conveniences necessary to make it one of the best hotels in upper Georgia for the comfort of guests. A mechanic from Chattanooga, Tenn., has been here for some time engaged in moving old buildings and getting ready for the large structure. The Co. also owns a forty acre lot beyond which is very desirable for building purposes. We are informed that this lot will be laid off into town lots and nice convenient residences and other buildings will be erected on the same.

O. M. Abbott, who it was thought was murdered in the lower edge of White county recently is now in a lot of trouble. Sheriff Davis went in the upper edge of Lumpkin county last Friday and arrested him on information received from Dalton to the effect that he had stolen a mule some two years ago in Whitfield county from a farmer named J. B. Brown. The man was put in jail and the mule locked up in the stable. Abbott has been in and out of Lumpkin county for some two or three years. He claims that he contracted for the animal. Any way they came and carried both the man and mule back to Whitfield county last Wednesday, furnishing the latter with a pair of bracelets.

Col. H. P. Frarow came up from Gainesville last Tuesday and spent a day or so in Dahlonega.

Capt. Ashbury was in Dahlonega last Tuesday, who reported everything in good shape up his way.

Go to J. M. Brookshers for McCalister's medicines. Guaranteed to cure.

F. G. Thomson was down from Ohio again this week with some other gentlemen looking at the mines.

The approach of court caused some darkness in town to wed last week for fear the grand jury would get after them.

Better have your job work done right away. The price of envelopes has advanced 30 cents on the thousand in a week.

Rev. W. G. Spencer has sub contracted the building of the Presbyterian church at Dahlonega to Oliver Clark, of Gainesville.

A couple of gentlemen from the North were down looking at the Calhoun mine this week who may later on become interested.

We will give our readers some more mining views right off. We already have the electros but have been crowded with other matter.

Major Price issued some fifty or sixty $100 fas. against tax defaults last week. This means that the defaulters will have to pay out more than fifty dollars for being negligent.

Since the judges stand has been lowered the spectators stand up in the court room which makes it a little tiresome to the spectators during a long trial. The room needs raised seats.

Judge Estes and several of the visiting bar visited the mines after court adjourned last Tuesday, all of whom were surprised at the vast amount of work that is being done down at the Hand.

The protracted meeting in Dahlonega at the Baptist church has been in progress for several days. Dr. Landrum is here in attendance from Atlanta who has a large audience every time he preaches. We hope that much good will result from the meeting.

Judge Estes charges women ten dollars and cost for selling liquor, and those keeping a lewd house had their preference—to pay fifteen dollars and cost or work in the chain gang six months. That is in the country, and when they keep one in town it is $100 or 12 months in the chain gang.

Newspapers are a great benefit to a country and the people who reside in it—especially the NUGGET. An item in this paper recently caused the capture of a mule thief, the recovery of the animal besides our sheriff receiving a reward of $20. We have reference to Abbott who stole a mule two years ago in Whitfield county and came to Lumpkin. The owners attention was called to an article in the NUGGET recently where Abbott's name was used, which caused the owner of the mule to offer our sheriff $20 reward for the animal resulting in both the mule and man being captured. Every one should encourage the newspaper industry.

Last Tuesday afternoon one of the saddest pictures ever beheld in Lumpkin county was seen at the court house. A woman had been convicted of selling a quart of liquor. The court gave her a fine of fifteen dollars and cost, which means about $40 or six months in the chain gang. When this woman stood up, it was noticed that she had on brogan shoes, badly worn for wear and evidently patched by the defendant herself. A red faded calico dress, a faded waist and a homemade bonnet, and blue apron made up her outfit. Poverty, misery, crime. This woman had sold the whiskey to a man. As usual the man had told it. Crime is no respect of persons, neither is the law. The sooner the rich and the poor quit drinking and selling the infamous stuff the better. Can any one dispute it?

W. A. Waters, is a good hand to keep a secret, as an evident fact he was married to Miss Mittie Mincy on the 17th day of August and we didn't know any thing about it until this week and no one else except a few relatives. We thought he was coming to town to court when he and behold he was already wedded. It is too late now to wish him much joy, but if it wasn't it wouldn't likely prove of any benefit to him for us to do so. A country editor wishes has no more effect on a person (although it is a custom) than a child which is sprinkled with little by the Methodists in order to try to make a christian out of it when it grows older. So Bill hasn't lost anything by not letting us know of the wedding.

John Moore is improving rapidly and will soon be out.

Jeweler McGuire had to hire a helper this week. He advertises.

Negro Education.

Estate School Superintendent Glenn's plan is this: Instead of the kind of education negroes are now getting they should be given instruction in manual training. The money appropriated for their schools should be used in preparing them for some useful trade or occupation. If, for instance, the negro boys were taught something about agriculture the chances are that quite a percentage of them would become successful farmers. The negroes make very good mechanics when properly taught, and they might even be given a training that would make them much more valuable servants than they are.

One of the great needs of the negro race is training schools for the girls. There is a very great and a growing need for competent servant girls. The negro girls nowadays who get a little learning at the public schools are not fitted for any kind of employment. They don't know how to cook or sew or to do general house work. Their inclination is to do no work at all. The money they get goes for clothes, and their delight is to spend their time in the streets. If there were training schools in which they could be taught to be cooks, dressmakers, nurses and to do general housework they would, in a little time, be a hundred times better off than they are now.

One thing that Superintendent Glenn says ought to arrest attention. It is that the property that is held by negroes has been accumulated mainly by the older negroes, those who received their training in the days of slavery. The inference to be drawn from this statement is that the negroes that have come to manhood and womanhood since the war of secession are inferior as citizens to those who received their training in ante-bellum times. Assuming that this is the case, the conclusion is that the negro is retrograding. A generation hence he will be worse off than he is at present, and will be a burden on the community instead of a worker. - Ex.

The Manser pistol is a new arm that has just been put to practical test for the government. Human cadavers were used to test the effect of the bullets upon human tissues. The pistol has an effective range of 500 yards and it is said to be the most deadly weapon of its kind ever invented. At 500 yards the bullets went entirely through the cadavers. It is probable that the arm will be adopted by the army. It is now in use in Germany. It is the costliest pistol made for army use, the price of each in large contract lots being $2,84. The cartridges cost four cents. Smokeless powder is used. The caliber is 30. The bullets have a lead core and a nickel plated copper jacket, the weight of each projectile being eighty grains.

The famous commentator, Dr. Gill, is said to have worn a robe that was too long to suit the taste of one of the sisters of his congregation. The good sister told him of this and the doctor at once brought her the garment and a pair of scissors and told her to cut it to suit herself. When she had finished the doctor said: "Now, sister, there is something about you that is too long and gives me much trouble." "Very well," remarked the lady, thinking one good turn deserved another, "here are the scissors; cut it to suit your own taste." "All right," replied the doctor, "put out your tongue." The results are not known.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of the so-called 'specifies' usually kept in the house to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by F. W. Hall Mose Co.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay County, W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniments, and two and a half gallons of whisky in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by F. W. Hall Mose Co.

A society writer in a big city daily truly says: "It is a foolish girl who marries a man to reform him. Sweethearts reform very few men, and wives still fewer. The girl who expects to change the nature of a pig by marrying one will get some very sad lessons in zoology if she persists in carrying out her principles. The drunkard who is all smiles and considerateness as a sweetheart, and who invests a large per cent of his salary in cloves, etc., will get brutal and hopeless as a husband, and lie out all nights at the back door of a saloon. The best sort of a man for a girl to marry is a man who is not needed to be reformed at all, but who has been upright all his life. - Ex.

A Woman Only Knows
what suffering from falling of the womb, white, painful or irregular monthly periods, etc., can do to a female's organism. A man may sympathize or pity but he can not know the secret of the woman's suffering. She is so patiently borne, which gives proof of her strength and happiness. Yet this suffering really is needless.

THE LUZON Gold Property For Sale.

THE LUZON GOLD PROPERTY, formerly known as the Fred Bond Gold lot, is situated in the incorporated limits of Dahlonega. This property has been prospected only to a limited extent. Some rich veins have been cut. Some of the largest nuggets in this vicinity were reported made in this property. The gold stream flows through the center of this lot. The surface indications of a "big" gold mine are very good. A portion of the lot is extremely situated for both urban residences. For further information apply to John C. COOPER, OWNER EXPLORATION AND DEVELOPMENT CO., rear of Moore's store, Dahlonega, Ga.

NOTICE OF THE INTRODUCTION OF A BILL.

Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced into the General Assembly of Georgia next session, for the purpose of an act to "Amend the charter of the town of Dahlonega." W. P. Price, Mayor.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCT. 27 '93.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., Post Office as Second Class Matter.

The state fair is open in Atlanta but those who have attended say that the exhibits are not near all in yet.

Chief engineer of the army, Brig.-Gen. Wilson, asks in addition to the large amount provided for, $15,632,026 to carry on works contracted for.

Dewey won't be able to come to Atlanta as was expected. They have kissed and slobbered over him so much since his return to America that it has made him sick.

Sixty thousand dollars were said to have been raised at one meeting in New York recently for the health. So you see that it is a very nice thing to be a heathen.

A prisoner, who was tried in Arkansas on seven different charges, received sentences in them all aggregating 115 years imprisonment. He has evidently gotten a job for life.

The poor man gets drunk, gives a free circus and goes to jail for 30 days. The one with wealth calls everyone in the house a liar and is sent home in a back with the blinds pulled down.

One night last week a negro was burned at the stake at St. Anne, Tenn. He had tied Mrs. Gamble and her four children and then set fire to the house over their heads. This was good enough for him.

If our farmers would make an attempt to take all the papers and keep up with the advice given them they will forget how to scold a "razor-back," and never get onto the plan of raising more wheat and less cotton.

White county is to again have a newspaper called the Cleveland Courier, by George S. Rodger, who has leased the Cleveland Progress. The first number was to have appeared last week but if it did it missed us.

In the south, says the Savannah Press, there are 29 negroes in prison out of every 1,000; in the north there are 69 out of every 1,000, and yet the north lectures the south upon not treating the negroes so as to make him a better citizen.

The Republicans of Gilmer county recently met and passed resolutions condemning the appointment of negroes to office in the South, the civil service and the appointments of a democrat as census supervisor of the ninth district, and say they want some offices themselves.

It has been shown by careful analytical experience that more than one-third of the flocks feeding value of the corn stalk is below the ear, which is frequently left to stand in the field. Few farmers can afford such extravagance and escape hard times. Save the whole stalk and feed it to the stock, and it will take the place of hay.

Last week at Eastman, Ga., Ben Smith, who is charged with stealing, went out into the country several miles distant with the sheriff and showed where $1,900 had been hidden in the ground in a broken jug—all gold coin. Smith was carried back and placed in jail and the money was put in the bank. Since then Smith has commenced suit for the money, claiming that it was given to him by a man and he had a right to do what he pleased with it.

Young man! Young woman! Don't think so much about what you wear on your back. Meditate and see what you have in your head. If you have an opportunity to get an education embrace it. In the shuffle of life these days, ignorance is the refuge that is absolutely marketless. The more ignorant you are the less use you are in the world. Money and good clothes do not compensate for a head full of foolishness and a mouth full of bad grammar, says an exchange.

GEORGIA'S RICH MINES.

Ex.-Lieutenant Governor Mc. Intosh, of Canada, Visited Dahlonega's Mines Last Week.

Hon. C. H. McIntosh, ex-lieutenant governor of the Canadian northwest territories, including the famous Yukon gold fields, after visiting some of the most prominent mines of Lumpkin county last week, talked very interesting concerning our gold fields to a Constitution as he was returning home while in Atlanta.

In answer to a question with the object of his visit to Georgia, Governor Mackintosh said:

"I was anxious to compare the general mining surroundings of California and Georgia, and can now unquestionably say that Georgia, to my mind, promises greater development, for it has fuel in abundance, water power sufficient to drive the spindles of the continent, good roads, and, added to this, very cheap labor, as well as wise and liberal mining laws. The foreigner is not considered as nor treated as an alien; the law is one for all, unlike the almost prohibitive ordinances of Washington state. Added to this, your people are square; that is, they are manly and honorable, and appear to believe in the policy of live and let live. Nearly all the large properties in California appear to be in litigation."

Asked what portion of this state he inspected, Mr. Mackintosh said: "Chiefly Lumpkin county, where my friend, Col. S. M. Whorton, is doing capital work near Dahlonega. He was in Rossland, British Columbia, opening and working mines there, and first called my attention to Georgia. I then promised to come and see for myself, and have been amply rewarded. His Calhoun property is very promising. This was formerly owned, as you know, by the brilliant statesman, Hon. John C. Calhoun—a name to conjure with, surely! We in Canada have always been believers in and admirers of the southern people; the world knows what heroes the women were and how chivalrous the men of the south were and are. Mind you, this is not mere boast; I believe what I say."

"Your opinion is, then, that capital will come into the state as a mining investment?"

"Undoubtedly, provided when it comes prices are not run up, as in other districts. Capitalists are not as speculative as formerly, and science has enabled them to fairly estimate the value of a mining claim or mine."

"All things being equal Georgia could hold her own, for a state that has already produced fully $1,000,000 of gold, with primitive appliances should astonish the world if developed according to up-to-date processes."

"It was natural for me to go to the Dahlonega district, in view of the fact that sufficient gold was discovered to justify the United States government establishing a mint at Dahlonega in 1838; in fact I believe the first gold minted by the United States in 1830 was from the state of Georgia. Even when the placer diggings give out, and they certainly appear very rich, quartz mining must follow, for I have already seen miles of ledges yielding very satisfactory assays."

When the latest concentrators, plates, stamps and modern appliances generally, there is nothing to prevent an output of several million dollars in gold per annum from this state. Capital can accomplish this, provided properties are not over capitalized, and laws and labor values continue as at present."

A little girl in Chicago concluded her evening prayer as follows: "—and please, O Lord, take good care of yourself, too. If anything should happen to you, we wouldn't have anyone but McKinley to depend on, and he isn't doing as well as popa expected."

The location for the electric plant at the Hand mine was surveyed out last Wednesday.

The Mining Outlook Good. An Addition to the Grand Jury Presentments.

The New York Mining Journal has this to say about our mining industry: "The general interest manifested in mining investments is having an effect in the South as well as the West. More interest is being taken in the gold mines of Georgia, for instance, and more promising work is being done there than for a long time past. The Dahlonega District, in which work has been more extensive and continuous than anywhere else in the South, is soon to have railroad communication, which will be of great advantage to the mines. Last year a consolidation was effected by purchase of a number of the small mines in the district, and the new company is introducing more systematic methods of mining and development than have been known in the district. It is also putting up a mill of fair size, and a chlorination plant, and proposes to test the value of its properties thoroughly."

It is encouraging to see that the boom methods which were tried by some Georgia mine owners and some English promoters two years ago—with very unsatisfactory results—have been dropped. The latest developments are being made in a more business-like way, and with correspondingly better prospects of success.

Poor old Spain! She is no longer able to take care of her own citizens and must send them to a country known to be hostile to them. If reports from Havana are to be relied upon Spain has sent several thousand Spaniards back to Cuba because there was no work for them to do at home actually paying their passage to the island. The Philadelphia Ledger says Spain is committing suicide. She is "giving up the struggle for existence and must soon become moribund and pass out of existence as a political entity," adds our contemporary.—Columbus Sun.

Mrs. William Swartwood of Mountain Top, near Wilkesboro, Pa., gave birth to her twenty-fifth child on Sept. 18. It is a boy and strong and healthy. He has twenty-one brothers and sisters living, three others having died. He is an uncle several times over. The husband is an engineer on the New York Central Railroad.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Miss Romania Whelchel arrived at Ellijay Saturday to take her position in Ellijay Institute. Miss Whelchel is one of the best teachers that ever wielded the birchen sterner in Ellijay, and she don't forget to wield in on proper occasions.—Covier.

A Kansas woman in Butler county has managed a 450 acre farm for ten years and has saved $20,000. This is printed to show what a woman can do when not handicapped with a husband.

The location for the electric plant at the Hand mine was surveyed out last Wednesday.

An Addition to the Grand Jury Presentments.

After printing off our first side containing the presentments of the foreman of that body handed us the following:

Mr. EDIRON:

In the hurry in making up the general presentments of the grand jury an omission was made with respect to the matter of the recent erection of public school buildings. It was the unanimous sentiment of the jury that all praise should be accorded Col. Price and the other members of the county school board for their splendid work in having these comfortable buildings erected. It is an inspiration for one to ride through the country and see them. No better work has been done in the county, and the grand jury desired in a public way to commend the board as good and faithful servants.

W. H. McAFFEE,
Foreman.

We acknowledge the receipt of a free pass into the State Fair this week from the managers of the same, but regret that circumstances are so that we can't attend this year, though hoping that our absence will not prevent it from being a success. We also are in possession of a free railroad pass to Atlanta. We could fill our pockets with soda crackers and ride down and have a high old time taking in the sights of the city and fair.

Some more town property will change hands this week, being that of Mr. Floyd Anderson which he purchased from the Besser estate where the old stable now stands, fronting the new NUGGET office. E. C. Crisson has bargained for it and the deeds will likely be made to him to-morrow. Mr. Crisson will erect one or more buildings on it and put the property in good shape.

The following persons who were sentenced at the last term of Lumpkin Superior court have paid their fines: D. M. Jarrard, Cooney Long, J. H. Walker, A. R. Sollins, J. H. Postell, Boyd Corbin, James Sain and Emanuel Howell. The other prisoners will be sent off as soon as the chain gang authorities are heard from if they do not settle up before.

G. D. Bruce is going to close out his gallery very soon for a short time. Those desiring any work in his line should call by the 15th of next month.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages. That disease is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive remedy known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for just testimonials.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., OCT. 27 '99.

Mr. George has a large force of hands at work on the Postwick Hall and is getting along very fast.

The game season opens next Wednesday, after which time you can kill any kind of game you may be able to find.

Dr. Craven, who is interested in mining down on the Briar Patch, returned to Dahlonega last week after being absent in Chicago for a short time.

State fairs have gotten to be an old thing like circuses. Generally when a person sees one they see all, and we doubt whether any one scarcely from Dahlonega goes or not.

A gentleman residing in Brooklyn, N. Y., in renewing his subscription to the NUGGET this week says: "You will find enclosed $1 subscription to the NUGGET, which I find to be very interesting and hope you will continue to prosper in your efforts to give the news which are reliable."

If all negroes were as industrious as Abe Anderson, who lives in Dahlonega, there would never be any clash between the whites and blacks. He works for the Consolidated Co., and when he gets in his days work does not come to town and loaf around but labor till a late hour improving his place. He has just finished up a room to his house which is built by moonshine.

H. D. Gurley made the biggest crop of potatoes of any one residing in Dahlonega this year, having had a large patch cultivated on the college ground which he says will turn out some two or three hundred bushels. Mr. Gurley's father was one of the best farmers in Union county who taught Hiriam enough about tilling the soil to cause him to like to have this kind of work going on even if he has moved to town, besides he will never forget how to farm.

President Adams, of the Consolidated Co., is having the sidewalk in front of his office put in good shape. A new fence will be built some six feet farther back so as to broaden the street. The Masonic fraternity may give the same distance so the walls can be extended on down to Main street. The company also expects to open out a street through its office lot so as to extend the one running McKees store on to Prof. Gaillard's. This will be a big improvement and will add much to the looks of the property.

It seems that no two grand juries in Lumpkin can agree upon road working. They all want good roads but don't seem to know how to get them. One jury will recommend certain changes made and if the ordinary doesn't have the work done before another court the next jury will "knock it all in the head" and recommend some other change like they did on the Beardsen bridge road. The jury at the spring term of court recommended certain changes on it which were surveyed but never worked out, and the last body recommended something else. So there is no telling whether anything will be done on this road or not.

The pupils of the fifth and sixth grade of the public school organized a literary society on the first of the month. The exercises consist of recitations, declamations, compositions and debates. The boys and girls enter into the work with spirit and enthusiasm. It is expected that these exercises will develop the talent that many of the pupils may have for elocution, oratory and debate, and train them in the parliamentary rules and usage. The society is under the direction and management of the principal, but ample freedom is allowed the pupils for development. The officers elected for the first term are Wier Gaillard, president, Willie Reese, vice-president, trout and Stanton, secretary and Prof. J. M. Martin, critic.

Go to J. M. Brookshers for McCalister's medicines. Guaranteed to cure.

It has been so warm, up to the present that the bed bags have been prowlwing around every night, necessary for them to take up winter quarters.

A certain female hauled a load to town last Friday, a distance of eight miles, and threw it off at the NUGGET office herself. We don't want any of the lazy men to say again that they are not able to take a paper.

Four parties went out and saved the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. from having to pay for a cow which had mixed up the other night in a pond on the company's property near the old Bessemer Spring.

Just as Judge Estes was coming from the stand last Thursday after the adjournment of court he told Mr. Wallace that he had made him as good a clerk as he had in the circuit. This is quite a compliment on the clerk.

Our line of canned goods, groceries and confectionaries is complete and our prices as low as the lowest. Also, our shoes, dry goods and notions. We mean to save you money on every article purchased. Call and get our prices first. E. S. COPELAND.

Gentlemen, don't be guilty of sending your money off for job work which can be done right here at home and ask us to do favors and pay us in "thank you," for you will get disappointed. We have adopted the late golden rule: "Do unto others as they do unto you."

It will be seen from the grand jury presentations elsewhere that another bridge is wanted across the Hightower river one mile from Auraria. Lumpkin county is entirely surrounded by water courses requiring many bridges in order for persons to either get in or out.

The building boom is now on in earnest. Among other improvements is the new NUGGET office in course of construction by that excellent mechanic, Geo. P. Duncan, a short distance below Main street bridge on Choice street, near the old Public Spring where we will move during the next month.

The last grand jury was an able body of men and did much work. They found a bill against every person that had been violating the law where sufficient evidence could be produced, and then turned in and returned a bill against one of their number, making 24 bills in all, besides acting on quite a number of "No Bills."

Since the grand jury made complaint to the court about the bad condition of the jail sheriff Davis has put the building in top shape. Before the judge had scarcely had time to reach home there was at least two spitoons to each prisoner but now the prisoners will soon be all out or gone to the chain gang or penitentiary and there is no one to use them.

Every thing presents a lively appearance on the lot recently purchased by the Consolidated Company from Maj. Basinger, getting ready to build the large hotel. A large force of hands are employed digging the cellar, hauling rock and lumber, etc., so as to push the work as rapidly as possible before the disagreeable weather sets in. The building will be a magnificent structure and to be heat up by steam.

It was right amusing to us the other day when we received a letter from a northern gentleman who has several thousand dollars invested in mining here, asking if we could make any reduction in the subscription price of the NUGGET in clubs of five or more. The idea of wanting reduced rates on a weekly paper after it had given him information resulting in the gentleman being able to become the owner of a rich gold mine, is right funny.

Both under and overshirts cheap at G. McGuire's.

The streams are very low on account of so much dry weather.

Mrs. Wylie Bishop and the wife of old man Massey, two sisters residing in the upper portion of the county, had a misunderstanding the other day and fought like men. They scratched and bit each other like cats causing the blood to run freely.

A farmer brought ten live fat 'possums to Dahlonega last Saturday and sold them to merchant Moore which went like old fashioned gingers used to. In fact it kept one clerk busy selling and answering questions until they were gone at 25 cents each.

G. McGuire has just received the most complete stock of goods he has ever had since commencing business. It embraces everything that is kept in a first class mercantile establishment, all being marked low down. Call at once and examine goods and get prices.

C. J. Norwood, after being in Dahlonega for a long time, as general superintendent of the Singleton, Kentucky and Dahlonega mines, left for his home in Frankford, Ky. this week at the regret of every one who knew him, as he was a gentleman who made many friends wherever he went. These mines now, or a portion of them are under a lease to J. F. Moore, who is pushing work right along.

We mentioned the fact last week that two men by the name of Ship and Miller had passed some Confederate money on a party in this country amounting to twenty dollars and that the one damaged was in pursuit. We learned later that the young men were overtaken at Barrettsville who were released after turning over all the money they had. The one who had sold

Ship and Miller the liquor couldn't afford to prosecute them because it was blockade. We are informed that before Ship and Miller started out on this tour they went to Howell & Miller at Auraria and got six or seven dollars worth of goods on time telling the merchants that they were going back to work at the Betz mine, but instead of doing this went and passed the Confederate money for 20 gallons of liquor.

The matrimonial fever has certainly struck the NUGGET office.

Within the past week our only two printer girls have run away and married. There ought to be a law making it a penitentiary of fence for an ordinary to issue license for the marriage of girls unless they have a written notice from their parents that they are willing, especially when the girls are not big children. Then the same penalty should be put on the one that steals the girl as well as the one that marries them. Then the girl should be put on bread and water for ninety days, for it is much better for the girl to be made to use this diet for three months than to have to live on it for a lifetime maybe. We have no use for any one that steals a girl, and when a girl of ours runs away and marries contrary to our wishes then our love and friendship ceases for her.

Marrying is a serious thing, and as long as officers go unpunished for issuing license to children the court dockets will be full of divorce suits. In addition to this we will add, that we don't believe that a minister who knowingly marries a little runaway girl has got much more religion than that.

When one gets up in the pulpit and blows, snorts and puffs

like a volcano and prays for people to be relieved of all trouble, and turns right round and does a thing that doubly heaps it upon their shoulders, is this religion? If it is we don't want it.

All kinds of pickles, white fish, mackerel, macaroni, &c., at E. S. Copelands.

Col. W. P. Price left for Atlanta last Wednesday to be gone about a week on some business.

D. M. Grizel has bought the house and lot from E. E. Crisson on the hill beyond the college.

Ladies underwear at G. McGuire's cheaper than can be purchased elsewhere in Dahlonega.

Several persons, united themselves with the church here last Sunday—both the Methodist and the Baptist.

Two more children—Miss Belle Edmonson and John Roberts—ran away and married last Sunday. Esq. W. J. Worley performed the ceremony.

Clerk of the Superior Court Wallace left last Sunday for Atlanta to be gone about a month. R. H. Webb and Col. Lilly will look after his office during his absence.

Capt. Williams has purchased Uncle Johnnie Cavender's house and lot in Dahlonega. The old man will move back to his farm in Union county—town life doesn't suit him.

The price of lumber is advancing in Gainesville. This will be an advantage to our saw mill men here at home as it will be cheaper for builders in Dahlonega to get it than to buy and have it hauled from Gainesville.

We are often told that high prices bring about better times. We can't see what benefit it will be to a country editor who has barely enough money to buy a peck of meal at 15 cents, when the price advances to 20 cents a peck and he can't get it how does it help him?

Parties had better watch and be very careful when they curse other people. It is said that the last grand jury returned three different true bills against one man for this kind of conduct. Maybe the courts can put a stop to the use of profane language to some extent if the preachers can't.

A little girl put in its appearance at Ben Moore's last Sunday night. Used to the appearance of a little one at a man's house made the household happy, but now days a man doesn't know what trouble they will bring forth since the most of them want to marry soon after they leave their mother's breast. We hope, however, that it will be different with Ben's little girl.

The grand jury returned a bill against Floyd Davis last week for an assault with intent to murder, the party assaulted being Elias Grizel some time ago. A bill of the same nature was found against John Satterfield for trying to cut Marshal Anderson while the latter was arresting him some months ago, we learn. When a man tackles a marshal while he is in the discharge of his duties generally gets into trouble sooner or later.

While Dr. Landrum was in Dahlonega last week he visited the jail and offered up a fervent prayer in behalf of several prisoners who had been sentenced to six months in Fulton county jail. Fortner, his partner, received the same sentence. Joe Corn plead guilty and was discharged by the Judge on account of being under age. Bill Bowen, of White county, who had been up several times for blockading, was given thirteen months in the penitentiary, while one of the Smiths will have to serve fifteen months in the penitentiary.

Some more valuable town property has changed hands in Dahlonega within the past few days, including the old Wimpy store house and residence adjoining, owned by Col. Charters. Both of these houses now belongs to H. D. Gurley together with the stable lot on rear rear lot of these buildings. Dr. Gurley anticipates moving the best buildings on the stable lot and then put up a three story building on the lot where they now stand—store rooms on the lower floor and offices in the upper part. This work will begin now but it is too late to get the brick made. This begins to sound like business. We are glad to note the intention of such a move. There is but one brick business house in Dahlonega and it begins to look lonesome these prosperous times.

Mining Notes.

H. H. Thomas, of Dahlonega, showed us a lot of splendid ore last Saturday taken from property he has optioned in Gilmer county. One vein is from 18 inches to two feet and worth about $5 dollars per ton. Another vein measures several feet across at various places which is very rich. Then besides these two a large sulphure vein has been opened up worth from $20 to $30 per ton, so Mr. Thomas informs us.

The Thomas lot down on Willow creek in Lumpkin county, seems to be one of the most valuable pieces of property in this section on account of containing so many different minerals, all believed to be in paying quantities. The owner first struck gold, then asbestos and a few days ago found a ten foot iron vein on the property, and if the old man was able to work or had plenty of money to spend for the purpose there is no telling what else he would find on it.

While in conversation with a gentleman the other day he informed us that he had just opened up one of the largest and richest veins ever discovered in this whole country. It is almost entirely in new diggings. He traced the vein for a long distance and found gold and a plenty of it nearly every opening. At some places the gold was even found in the dirt. But the fool like of necessary money to supply the mine with water and suitable machinery to develop it had to covet up the sparkling gold in the rock and wait, trusting that some one will come along in the near future with money enough to work it.

We present to our readers on the first page of this issue a view of the Yahoola cut and the 20 foot vein, which is now owned by the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co. This mine has been operated continuously up till it was purchased by the new company for the last 30 years. There are four valuable veins opened up on it now that have been tested and show the following: Vein No. 1, ten feet thick, concentrates $192.25. No. 3, 30 feet thick, at different places, assays from $8.60 to $119.60. No. 3, two feet thick, from $10.40 to $25.20. No. 4, 18 feet thick, from 40 cents to $10.40. We give these figures merely to show the public the average value of the ores and to show what the company has in store for its members when the chlorination plant is completed. There are many other just such mines in this county, some being still more valuable.

It's a wonderful sight to visit the Hand mine and see the vast amount of work that has been done there within the past few months in grading roads, cutting tunnels, building and laying railroad tracks. And the rapid progress they have made on the large 120 stamp mill which is under the supervision of Mr. Scott, is astonishing. The building is 233 feet long and about 100 feet wide, sheathed in on the outside with corrugated iron, enabling them to work every day either rain or shine putting in the most modern machinery. Half the batteries are already in position. The stamps weigh 350 pounds requiring the battery blocks to be made in the strongest possible manner. It may surprise the operators and builders of old style mills when we tell them that it requires nearly forty-five thousand feet of lumber for the battery blocks of this big mill. Then let us think for a moment the large amount of ore this will crush in a day. Each stamp as before stated weighs 350 pounds and will drop 90 times to the minute, making the capacity of the mill 480 tons a day. The wheel house is in the center of the building having two small but powerful wheels to run the machinery. Ore is being taken out and piled conveniently to the railroad tracks which run to the mill. It is rich and plentiful. Another four foot vein was found last week on the right of the branch in entirely new diggings. The rock foundation will soon be ready for the chlorination plant, building to be about 126 feet square.

LUMPER'S SUPERIOR COURTS,

October Term, 1890.

It is ordered that the within general presentments of the Grand Jury be received and spread upon the minutes of court.

Ordered further, that the same be published in accordance with the recommendations of the Grand Jury.

Done in open court this 15th day of October, 1890.

J. B. ESTES,

Judge Superior Court.

W. A. CHARTERS, Sol. Gen.

I certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy from the minutes of court,

G. C. WALLACE,

Clerk Superior Court.

During the winter of 1897 Mr
James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, County, W. Va. struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whisky in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have been amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism.

Have Courage, My Boy.

Many boys become disheartened as they gaze far above them at men who have climbed the rickety ladder of fortune and success has rowned their efforts.

They would willingly take positions that are above them on the ladder, but to begin at the foot, where the salary is only a few cents a day, it may be, is more than they can stand, and in too many instances they give up in helplessness, simply because the best places are filled.

They forget that nearly all successful business men made the grade from the lowest point on the ladder, and by persistence and hard till they have won the places they fill now.

In this connection we mention only one incident illustrating the fact we are trying to impress.

John D. Rockefeller, the "Oil King," whose wealth touches the $125,000,000 mark, won his first start in business working on a New York farm twelve hours out of the twenty-four for 25 cents a day.—

A Convict's Wedding Gift.

A sad story comes by private sources from the state penitentiary at Huntsville, says an Austin, Tex., dispatch to the St. Louis Globe Democrat.
For two years the wife of a prisoner has lived at Huntsville, supporting herself as well as she could awaiting the time for the expiration of the sentence of her husband, who has only another year to serve. It appears that his trouble was caused because of his devotion to his wife, with whom he was very much in love.
During the time the woman lived in Huntsville, she has regularly visited him on every occasion permitted by the prison rules, and a most loving couple they were.
Last Saturday she decided, after much persuasion, that a free man was better than one in the penitentiary, and decided to marry a man who had importuned her for a few weeks.

She at once applied for divorce on the ground that her husband had been convicted of a felony, which is a statutory cause in Texas.
Her lawyer went to the penitentiary to serve the process on the husband, who was working in the wood yard.
Then he suddenly raised his sharp ax in his left hand, so the story goes and with one blow smote off his right arm just below the elbow. Dropping the bloody ax, he picked up the quivering limb,
and, banding it to the lawyer, said:
"Present this as my wedding gift to her."

He dropped in a faint, and has since been lying between life and death in the hospital.

On the 10th of December, 1897,
Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E.
Church, South, Ft. Pleasant, W. Va. contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most eagerly recommend it to the public."

The Blakely (Ga.) Reporter says there is a man in Early county who has been relieved of road duty for years on a "technicology." It is customary to summons a man to work the road nearest to where he sleeps and has his clothing washed.
As this man has never been seen with so much as a clean shirt on, the supposition is that he has no washing done, and he is relieved of road duty. We know of no better reason.—Savannah News.
